Who Is The Aggressor Now?

Mr. Editor:

I hold no brief for the present Nazi regime and its program of aggression against weaker nations. As a Christian pastor I am vehemently opposed to aggression in any form, by any government, even if committed by the government of my own nation.

The verdict of history has verified the pronouncement of Jesus: "He that taketh the sword shall perish by the sword!"

I am grieved and troubled to observe how the present administration has step by step launched a policy of hostile and aggressive acts against Germany for the purpose of assisting one European nation in the present European conflict.

The cancellation of the Arms Embargo Act at the outbreak of the war, the sale of huge supplies of rifles and ammunition by our government in July, and now the release of fifty American destroyers to bolster the British navy -- are all acts of war, let us make no mistake about it. These transactions are not help to Great Britain short of war -- they are war.

Who is the aggressor now, Germany or the United States? Whatever may be said of Germany's acts in Europe, it cannot be denied, that this nation has not moved aggressively against America. Nor is there any real menace against the security of our country from a nation that has no navy.

Yes, we must keep ourselves strong to resist any foe or combination of foes, but as a Christian nation we must use our strength only in defense.

Our government is using its growing military power not to defend America but to attack Germany in the defense of Great Britain.

They tell us, however, that the best defense is a strong offense. Strike your foe, while he is vulnerable, to prevent his striking at you, when he is in a position to do so.

Sophistry, pure and simple! Hitler used the same arguments when he attacked the Poles and all his other victims.

Let our people understand this clearly, if we finally are involved in actual combat with Germany, it will not be because Hitler has driven us into war. It will be because our government has forced into a war of aggression.

I, a Christian pastor, cannot bring my conscience to sanction the killing of American youths in such a war.

For me this policy of entanglement in Europe's age old conflicts is particularly painful. My father left Germany to escape Prussian militarism. He wanted to get away from the continuous wars and preparation for wars. America beckoned him as the land of escape from Europe's bloody militarism and suppression.

What ,a shock to his son bred in American democracy, and the tradition of Washington, to witness an American government, deliberately dragging this nation against the will of the people into Europe's whirlpool of hate and destruction. God help America!

It's A Draw Between Park, Village Boards

Prominent Scarsdale Citizens Speak Their Piece

Seated around the conference table in the office of the park board in the field house last Thursday were:

Members of the Park board.
Members of the Village board.
Citizens of Scarsdale.

The purpose of the conference depended upon who was doing the speaking.

The Park board were silent listeners, possibly trusting to luck that somewhere in the negotiations the village would suggest a lower rate.

The village board members were in hopes that the "get together" would bring about a return to the village of the lot that had been previously turned over to the village for a pump site and later turned over to the park district for park purposes.

The final score:
Park board did not lose or gain.
Scarsdale, status quo.
Village, does not want the d—lot anyway.

The final verdict:
Park board: not adverse to turning the lot back to the village, if a legal way could be found for them to do it.

Scarsdale: that community is willing to cooperate with the other parts of the village in any community improvement and would withdraw present objections if no other site was obtainable.

Village: a deep well must necessarily be located adjacent to a ten inch water main. There is no ten inch main in Scarsdale and from an engineer's standpoint the lot could not be used.

Of course everybody is happy.

Lutheran Men's Club To Resume Activities

The Lutheran Men's club will conduct its regular business and social meeting this Friday beginning at 8:00 o'clock. This club is affiliated with the National Lutheran Laymen's League with headquarters in St. Louis, Mo. In past years this national organization has exerted itself in the promotion of a return to Christianity by means of radio broadcasts, chief amongst these being the Lutheran Hour program.

"Such a worthy endeavor" says Theo. Preuss, "is sufficient reason for every member of the Lutheran church to join the local club, thus assisting materially in the promotion of these endeavors.

"The league is eager to expand its program of educational and social activities. This goal can only be achieved provided a greater number of men join the club. Every member of the club is therefore urged to attend the meeting Friday evening and help decide upon various projects and policies to be pursued during the ensuing year. The members of the board also hopefully look forward to seeing new faces at this meeting."

Mt. Prospect School To Issue $5,500 Funding Bonds

Mt. Prospect Board of Education has published a notice of its intention to issue $5,500 funding bonds to pay outstanding special assessments which will enable the school district to pay all specials against the school property in full. To permit the school board to first retire building bonds, the new issue will start to mature in 1951. The interest rate is 4½ per cent. A full article will appear in next issue.

Church Gives Mothers An Opportunity To Attend Sunday Service

An address system has been installed in the First Methodist church, Dunton ave. at St. James st., Arlington Heights, for service beginning this Sunday.

The address system includes the finest of available modern equipment, and connects the Sanctuary with the Epworth League chapel. By means of it, the complete service in the Sanctuary may be received in the chapel with perfect clarity and naturalness.

The primary purpose of the remote address system is to aid mothers in caring for their children with the least inconvenience to themselves or others, while not sacrificing the opportunity of enjoying the service in the Sanctuary.

"The introduction of the system will be a boon to mothers formerly unable to attend the services," stated Rev. Schellhase, pastor. "They are now urged to bring their children into the Chapel, if they prefer, and leave them there in the care of competent young ladies, or remain with them and enjoy the service from an easy chair.

"Other valuable uses of the public address system are too numerous to mention, but it is easily adapted for over-flow services, or for special programs or entertainment."

New Attendance Rules For High School Attendants

As schools become larger it becomes necessary to adopt rules for the few students who do not willingly react as average students. Parents are asked to cooperate in an effort to improve the record of tardiness of high school pupils for the coming year, and to understand that any disciplinary actions taken are in the interest of those who need the help of both the school and of the home in developing a greater measure of self-discipline.

Pupils were all notified of the new plan at the opening assembly of the year, and of the machinery which has been set up to insure the automatic operation of the rules. In short, the new rules will allow a student to be only tardy twice during each 6-week period, after which he will not be admitted if late. In the case of homes where there is a telephone, the home will be called and advised that the student was sent back home, having reported to school tardy and having already exceeded the very liberal amount of tardiness allowed.

During the past year 90 per cent of the tardinesses for the whole school were registered to only 35 of the 500 students enrolled, so it is evident that the new requirements will only effect as many of these 35 students as return to school this fall.

Students who persist in maintaining discreditable records will also be refused participation in any athletic or extra-curricular activity. Assistant Principal John L. Grose will act as attendance officer in addition to general supervision of the athletic program. It will be the policy to notify parents also by phone at once of all absences.

Arlington Residents Struck By Train In Mt. Prospect Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lindberg of Arlington Heights escaped death Sunday evening when the rear of their car was struck by a Chicago bound train in Mt. Prospect.

The Lindbergs had waited for a local train traveling from Chicago to pass the Emerson street crossing. Mrs. Lindberg, driving the vehicle, then started across the tracks, unaware of an approaching eastbound flier. The locomotive struck the rear of the car, swinging it around on the crossing.

Both Mr. Lindberg, riding in the back seat, and his wife were thrown from the car, but escaped with numerous cuts and bruises. Mrs. Carey Shettle of Chicago, riding with the Lindbergs, was unhurt.

Realtor Offers Arlington Well Site

New Deep Well Certain If Offer Is Accepted

Increased water supply for Arlington Heights awaits the acceptance of a site for new well that has been offered by Herman Weiss, who is developing a tract south of the Creamery Package plant. Mr. Weiss recently acquired several acres at the west end of Wing st., that has laid dormant for some time.

Placing the property back on the tax books required its development by the erection of marketable homes. The realtor has entered into an extensive program that included the laying of sewers and the proper improvement of the streets.

A ten inch water main passes through the property at Kennicott st., which marks it as a possible well site. There are no strings tied to Mr. Weiss' offer. In fact the deed for the property 37x129 feet was accepted by the village Tuesday night.

The village board met last night to inspect the property. If accepted by them, legal proceedings will be started at once. It is planned to issue $15,000 revenue bonds to finance the well.

Five years ago, Arlington Heights with the aid of the PWA expended $54,000 towards modernizing the water facilities of the village, which included erection of present water reservoir, the installation of ten inch water main encircling the village and the drilling of a deep well. That installation was expected to be ample for many years. The growth of the village has been so marked that as a defense measure a second deep well is considered necessary.

The village share of the original $54,000 improvement was $40,000, ten thousand dollars of bonds have been retired from receipts of the water department. Those receipts are now nearly $6,000 a quarter to pay the two bond issues leaving an ample amount to pay the costs of operating the department.

Aldermen Find $6,500 In Bills When They Return From Vacation

Returning to the job after a whole month's vacation, Arlington Heights village board, which met Tuesday for the first time in regular session since July 15th, found bills and payroll of $6,500 awaiting them. They were all approved. Payment will await funds.

Cafeteria Tickets Bring in Sheckles

Police officers have issued 75 "cafeteria" tickets to local motorists who have not purchased village license tags. Presentation of the tickets at the office of the village treasurer with money to purchase required tag, excuses the recipient from paying a fine. However, the police department will present a report at the next meeting of the board giving the names of those who have not purchased the tags.

Horses Still With Us

Does Arlington Heights get her fame from the race track or from its modern homes? The members of the board are not in full agreement, but the horses were again the winner when the board considered the design to be used for 1941 tags on next year's stickers, emblematical of the winner, place and show. The street department is placing their $127 (price of tags) on a sure thing, 35 to 1 shot, as the return will be over $4500.

Gaare's End Season With 17-3 Victory Over Bensenville

Gaare Studebakers won the championship of the Arlington soft ball league Sunday by defeating Iroquois A. C. of Bensenville in the last game of the season's schedule. The score was 17-3 and the outcome was never in doubt after Gaare's went to bat in the first inning.

The winners scored six runs in the first inning and picked up more in clusters of two or three almost every frame thereafer. Iroquois was helpless until the fourth when Gaare's relaxed and allowed three runs to score.

This game was the sixteenth victory of the season and marked the first time in league history that any team has swept through its entire schedule undefeated.

Grandmother Of Fifty Descendants Visits Arlington

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gronert, assistant cashier of the Arlington Heights National Bank, are entertaining Mrs. Mary Rath. Mrs. Gronert's grandmother, 86 years old, who has over fifty living descendants. All seven of her children are living. The great grandchildren number thirty-six.

This elderly lady reads without glasses, is as active as a person 20 years younger and gets a lot of enjoyment out of life.

Firemen's Popularity Great As Ever

Arlington Heights firemen are saying some nice things about the people of Arlington Heights and neighboring communities. Big crowds attended their annual picnic Sunday and Monday and the financial returns more than met the expectations of the fire laddies.

The pre-sale of the tickets insured the success of the event, and the presence of so many friends, volunteer workers from the Legion, V. F. W. and Palatine fire departments not only increased the returns, but also topped the good will sentiments that everybody has for the firemen.

THANK YOU!

The weather man and our friends were both good to us Sunday and Monday, but it is to our friends that we express our thanks and appreciation for their help and support at our annual picnic.

Financial returns are pleasing to us, but the good turns accorded us by non-members of the department and the generous support of everybody places Arlington Heights fire department in further indebtedness to the people of the community.

Creamery Pkg. Confers With Village Officials

Seek Permanent Solution To Acid Problem

Officials of the Creamery Package Co. and Arlington Heights village officials are looking forward to a permanent solution of the acid problem that has confronted the sewage department of the village a number of years. Cooperation on the part of the manufacturing company and Engineer Harris of the village has eliminated to a large extent the old trouble.

The manufacturing process in use at the plant requires the release of refuse acid at certain intervals. For some time Mr. Harris has been notified when the refuse was released into the sewer and he has either supervised or checked its analysis by means of the PH test. The use of lime has neutralized the acid to such an extent that it is harmless to the sewer and sewage plant.

In spite of all of the precautions, excess acid has existed at times and the lime released in several ton lots does not always thoroughly dissolve and accumulates at the sewage plant. To guard against such incidents, representatives of the company met Monday evening with the Arlington Heights village board and city engineer Consoer.

The group from the company included chemists of that firm. Mr. Consoer suggested the installation of an additional tank for the handling of the refuse before it is released. The firm's representatives repeatedly stated that the Creamery Package desired to cooperate to the fullest extent with the village.

Representatives of the company will meet with Engineer Consoer at his office in Chicago to work out a permanent solution.

Forkload Of Hay Injures Ray Hotopp

Ray Hotopp, employed by Meyer Dairy, suffered a fractured hip Tuesday afternoon when a forkload of hay fell upon him in the barn. Ray had raised the hay to the upper part of the barn and intended to drop it on the main floor, instead of into the mow. When moving the wagon, the hayfork trip rope was accidently pulled.

Mr. Hotopp was taken to the Elmhurst hospital and later returned to his home. He will be laid up several weeks.

Dundee Prize Home Goes To Local Woman

Mrs. Noe Nicholson, of Carpentersville, purchased five tickets on the prize home given away by the Dundee Legion, Labor Day. She won the home. She explains it that the money she paid was simply a donation to the Legion, which she admires, but they insisted issuing tickets for the money.

Mt. Prospect Board Provides Funds For Tuberculosis Tests

An appropriation of $15.00 was made to provide the necessary materials to test the children of Mt. Prospect for tuberculosis. Dr. Alfred Wolfarth will donate his services for this work. This service is not compulsory, but is offered free for the protection of Mount Prospect children. It is hoped that it will be taken in the same cooperative spirit in which it is offered.

65 Report For Football At Arlington

Football began at Arlington Heights this past Tuesday afternoon with 65 boys equipped and ready for action. About 12 to 15 more boys will be issued suits in the next few days to complete the total for the squad. Bad news to Cardinal opponents may be in the news that the Arlington coaches are having difficulty finding large sized suits in sufficient numbers for the larger boys on the squad.

With only five letter men back from last season's squad most of the position are wide open. Knowing this, most of the candidates are evidencing more pep, and enthusiasm than is customary at this time of the year.

Due to the gradually increased growth of the squad a new coach in the person of Ray Campbell has been hired this year to assist Coaches Hogate and Grose. Another good year is expected at Arlington, even in the face of lack of veterans here, and the knowledge that most of the conference schools are well manned by experienced squads.

'Mac Says' Back On The Job

"Mac Says," weekly sports column of Paddock Publications, starts the 1940-41 season in this weeks' issue on page 4 of the second section. Gerald A. McElroy, who shouldn't need any introduction to sport fans in this area, is Sports Editor of Paddock Publications and the athletic coach at the Palatine high school. His pertinent comments have followed all sport events, not only in his own Northwest conference, but in the Northeast conference, and to some extent in the suburban leagues.

Football and other activities will get into full swing soon in the local high schools and a regular sport page will be published starting in a week or two, as has been the custom in this paper for several years.

Bud Ernst Enters Government Service Anti-aircraft Division

J. J. Ernst, known as "Bud" among his friends, and a member of the Illinois National Guards, has decided to cast his lot with the fighters of Uncle Sam who will endeavor to stop foreign aircraft if war should come. As a member of the 202nd coast artillery, he returned Saturday from Sparta, Ill., where he participated in the maneuvers. He expects to be called soon to Camp Logan, near Zion, and with the completion of the new barracks at Riverside, Calif., will go to the west coast. He is a battalion staff sergeant in charge of trucks.

"Bud" had many interesting things to tell the boys about camp life. Canned food took on a new meaning to them when he exhibited a can that contained biscuits, sugar and the makings of coffee, all in the one can. Other cans contain soup and vegetables. He is very much enthused with army life. "It is not so bad," says "Bud."

Raymond E. Hayes Tells Lions Club About Constitution

Raymond Hayes, instructor at the Arlington township high school, appeared before the Arlington Heights Lions club Tuesday night and gave an informative talk on the history and meaning of the constitution of the United States. The Lions set aside its regular meeting night to learn more about the constitution in observance of the approaching Constitution day, September 17.

Mr. Hayes cleared up many misconceptions of what the powers are that are delegated to the three branches of the U. S. government. He sought to give a non-political talk yet at the same time trace the development of the constitution from its construction by the country's forefathers down to the present administration. His interesting analysis showed the result of years of much reading and study and the Lions welcomed the opportunity to be enlightened on such a subject at the most critical stage of the country's history.

Warn Motorists School Time Is Here

A bomb is no more deadly than an automobile, Taylor G. Soper, executive secretary of the Illinois Road Builders Association, declared today in a warning to the city's motorists that school time again is at hand.

Up to August 14 nine girls and eight boys, from 5 to 14 years of age, died this year in "vehicle involved accidents," according to the Chicago Safety Commission. One of these was a school time accident, which listing includes the hours of 8 to 9 a. m., 12 to 1 and 3 to 4 p. m. However, during 1939, 58 children in this age group were killed of whom 39 were boys and 19 were girls. Seven of these were school time accidents.

Of the 27 deaths thus far in 1940, covering the spring school semester, 15 were by passenger cars striking children, 10 by commercial vehicles, one by a transfer truck, one by a taxi; three were cyclists; and several were from hitching onto cars or trucks.

Sixty-seven children of 5 to 14 years were included in the state's accidental death toll of 138 persons during the first six months of 1940 with 1100 in that age group injured out of a 15,919 accident total, other records show.

Figures for the 5 to 14-year age group nationally show 2,350 children killed and 155,000 injured during 1939.

"Traffic deaths of school age children seemingly run higher during the last six months each year (which includes the first school term) than during the first six months (the second school term)," the road builder declared. "This would indicate that both motorists and children are more careless after the summer's freedom but grow more careful each succeeding month, possibly because of weather, of motorist campaigns, and of school campaigns.

"Such campaigns and school supervision have cut our annual child toll about as far as they can. Further results would seem to be up to motorists, to traffic engineers, and to incorporation of known safety engineering principles into road and street construction. Modernization of Illinois' roads and streets in conformance with 1940 traffic and construction knowledge would keep much traffic out of school areas and keep youngsters off heavily-traveled, fast traffic routes.

"Until such modernization, of which superhighway construction is only one part, can be achieved, it is up to traffic engineers and police to make and enforce proper regulations and definitely up to motorists to show their sense of human responsibility by observing not only the regulations but other sound driving principles which can help avoid the 'unavoidable' accidents."

Mrs. Homer J. Byrd Returns From Hospital

Mrs. Homer J. Byrd returned home Saturday from the Freeport hospital, where she spent two weeks, following a surgical operation. She is recovering nicely, but is not yet very active.

The A. M. Bunn family attended the annual Bunn family reunion at Bloomington last Sunday. Mr. Bunn's sister, Mrs. L. F. Hetland, of Sioux Falls, S. D., accompanied her brother to the reunion and is now visiting in Rockford before returning to her home.

Plans for Mount Prospect Lions' Fall Festival to be held in Mt. Prospect September 13, 14 and 15 are rapidly taking form. The entertainment committee announces that they have planned two interesting contests and invite all children, big and small, young and old (age is not limited) to participate.

First, they are going to have a dog show. So, boys and girls, if you haven't a dog, you'd better get busy and borrow one from your neighbor or some friend who has one. Any kind of a dog, large or small and a pedigree may not mean a prize. This is a show for the dogs, your Pal. You may get your registration blank for this contest at the Postoffice. Full details of the contest will be announced in next weeks paper. All dogs exhibited must be on a leash.

Second, they are having a doll buggy parade and prizes will be awarded for the contestants having the best decorated, funniest looking, and others.

Both contests will be held Sunday afternoon, September 15. Plans will be announced in full detail in next week's paper. So get ready girls and boys, too, for this interesting contest.

This year the Lions will use an 80x120 foot tent and therefore are better prepared for a much larger exhibit of Farm and Garden produce, Flowers, Handicraft, etc., than formerly. The intense interest shown in these exhibits in the past by both those who brought items to be exhibited and the visitors have made it necessary, the Lions say, for arranging additional space. No charge will be made to see these exhibits. Blue, red and white ribbons will be awarded winners for the various classes of entries. Articles exhibited will not have to be taken home each night, as the Lions Club will be fully responsible for the safe return of each and every item entered. A watchman will be on hand day and night and articles that may become soiled will be wrapped in cellophane paper when requested.

Another added feature to this year Fall Festival, the Lions announce, will be organ music. Plans for many other attractions are under way and it is hoped that this affair will be the biggest and best ever held in Mount Prospect.

The Lions club have assumed an obligation for the benefit of the residents of Mount Prospect and their friends by purchasing and erecting the attractive street signs on every street intersection in the village. Proceeds from the Fall Festival will be used to pay for the balance due on these signs and for other worth while projects for the benefit of the people in the community. You can show your appreciation of their efforts by purchasing tickets, which all Lions have, entitling the purchaser to a chance to receive $100.00, $50.00, $25.00 and ten $5.00 cash awards. In addition to those cash awards, there will be approximately fifty valuable merchandise gifts which will be distributed to those same ticket holders in attendance nightly during the term of the Festival. The winning numbers on merchandise will be replaced for the cash awards to be made Sunday, September 15.

During the past year, the Lions club have erected a toboggan slide, in addition to the street signs and have also purchased eye glasses for needy children, supported the public library and participated in many other worth while causes.

By your support to their Fall Festival, you will be aiding them in doing even more for the community and at the same time have some enjoyment for yourself and friends.

Who Is The Aggressor Now?

Mr. Editor:

I hold no brief for the present Nazi regime and its program of aggression against weaker nations. As a Christian pastor I am vehemently opposed to aggression in any form, by any government, even if committed by the government of my own nation.

The verdict of history has verified the pronouncement of Jesus: "He that taketh the sword shall perish by the sword!"

I am grieved and troubled to observe how the present administration has step by step launched a policy of hostile and aggressive acts against Germany for the purpose of assisting one European nation in the present European conflict.

The cancellation of the Arms Embargo Act at the outbreak of the war, the sale of huge supplies of rifles and ammunition by our government in July, and now the release of fifty American destroyers to bolster the British navy -- are all acts of war, let us make no mistake about it. These transactions are not help to Great Britain short of war -- they are war.

Who is the aggressor now, Germany or the United States? Whatever may be said of Germany's acts in Europe, it cannot be denied, that this nation has not moved aggressively against America. Nor is there any real menace against the security of our country from a nation that has no navy.

Yes, we must keep ourselves strong to resist any foe or combination of foes, but as a Christian nation we must use our strength only in defense.

Our government is using its growing military power not to defend America but to attack Germany in the defense of Great Britain.

They tell us, however, that the best defense is a strong offense. Strike your foe, while he is vulnerable, to prevent his striking at you, when he is in a position to do so.

Sophistry, pure and simple! Hitler used the same arguments when he attacked the Poles and all his other victims.

Let our people understand this clearly, if we finally are involved in actual combat with Germany, it will not be because Hitler has driven us into war. It will be because our government has forced into a war of aggression.

I, a Christian pastor, cannot bring my conscience to sanction the killing of American youths in such a war.

For me this policy of entanglement in Europe's age old conflicts is particularly painful. My father left Germany to escape Prussian militarism. He wanted to get away from the continuous wars and preparation for wars. America beckoned him as the land of escape from Europe's bloody militarism and suppression.

What ,a shock to his son bred in American democracy, and the tradition of Washington, to witness an American government, deliberately dragging this nation against the will of the people into Europe's whirlpool of hate and destruction. God help America!

It's A Draw Between Park, Village Boards

Prominent Scarsdale Citizens Speak Their Piece

Seated around the conference table in the office of the park board in the field house last Thursday were:

Members of the Park board.
Members of the Village board.
Citizens of Scarsdale.

The purpose of the conference depended upon who was doing the speaking.

The Park board were silent listeners, possibly trusting to luck that somewhere in the negotiations the village would suggest a lower rate.

The village board members were in hopes that the "get together" would bring about a return to the village of the lot that had been previously turned over to the village for a pump site and later turned over to the park district for park purposes.

The final score:
Park board did not lose or gain.
Scarsdale, status quo.
Village, does not want the d—lot anyway.

The final verdict:
Park board: not adverse to turning the lot back to the village, if a legal way could be found for them to do it.

Scarsdale: that community is willing to cooperate with the other parts of the village in any community improvement and would withdraw present objections if no other site was obtainable.

Village: a deep well must necessarily be located adjacent to a ten inch water main. There is no ten inch main in Scarsdale and from an engineer's standpoint the lot could not be used.

Of course everybody is happy.

Lutheran Men's Club To Resume Activities

The Lutheran Men's club will conduct its regular business and social meeting this Friday beginning at 8:00 o'clock. This club is affiliated with the National Lutheran Laymen's League with headquarters in St. Louis, Mo. In past years this national organization has exerted itself in the promotion of a return to Christianity by means of radio broadcasts, chief amongst these being the Lutheran Hour program.

"Such a worthy endeavor" says Theo. Preuss, "is sufficient reason for every member of the Lutheran church to join the local club, thus assisting materially in the promotion of these endeavors.

"The league is eager to expand its program of educational and social activities. This goal can only be achieved provided a greater number of men join the club. Every member of the club is therefore urged to attend the meeting Friday evening and help decide upon various projects and policies to be pursued during the ensuing year. The members of the board also hopefully look forward to seeing new faces at this meeting."

Mt. Prospect School To Issue $5,500 Funding Bonds

Mt. Prospect Board of Education has published a notice of its intention to issue $5,500 funding bonds to pay outstanding special assessments which will enable the school district to pay all specials against the school property in full. To permit the school board to first retire building bonds, the new issue will start to mature in 1951. The interest rate is 4½ per cent. A full article will appear in next issue.

Church Gives Mothers An Opportunity To Attend Sunday Service

An address system has been installed in the First Methodist church, Dunton ave. at St. James st., Arlington Heights, for service beginning this Sunday.

The address system includes the finest of available modern equipment, and connects the Sanctuary with the Epworth League chapel. By means of it, the complete service in the Sanctuary may be received in the chapel with perfect clarity and naturalness.

The primary purpose of the remote address system is to aid mothers in caring for their children with the least inconvenience to themselves or others, while not sacrificing the opportunity of enjoying the service in the Sanctuary.

"The introduction of the system will be a boon to mothers formerly unable to attend the services," stated Rev. Schellhase, pastor. "They are now urged to bring their children into the Chapel, if they prefer, and leave them there in the care of competent young ladies, or remain with them and enjoy the service from an easy chair.

"Other valuable uses of the public address system are too numerous to mention, but it is easily adapted for over-flow services, or for special programs or entertainment."

New Attendance Rules For High School Attendants

As schools become larger it becomes necessary to adopt rules for the few students who do not willingly react as average students. Parents are asked to cooperate in an effort to improve the record of tardiness of high school pupils for the coming year, and to understand that any disciplinary actions taken are in the interest of those who need the help of both the school and of the home in developing a greater measure of self-discipline.

Pupils were all notified of the new plan at the opening assembly of the year, and of the machinery which has been set up to insure the automatic operation of the rules. In short, the new rules will allow a student to be only tardy twice during each 6-week period, after which he will not be admitted if late. In the case of homes where there is a telephone, the home will be called and advised that the student was sent back home, having reported to school tardy and having already exceeded the very liberal amount of tardiness allowed.

During the past year 90 per cent of the tardinesses for the whole school were registered to only 35 of the 500 students enrolled, so it is evident that the new requirements will only effect as many of these 35 students as return to school this fall.

Students who persist in maintaining discreditable records will also be refused participation in any athletic or extra-curricular activity. Assistant Principal John L. Grose will act as attendance officer in addition to general supervision of the athletic program. It will be the policy to notify parents also by phone at once of all absences.

Arlington Residents Struck By Train In Mt. Prospect Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lindberg of Arlington Heights escaped death Sunday evening when the rear of their car was struck by a Chicago bound train in Mt. Prospect.

The Lindbergs had waited for a local train traveling from Chicago to pass the Emerson street crossing. Mrs. Lindberg, driving the vehicle, then started across the tracks, unaware of an approaching eastbound flier. The locomotive struck the rear of the car, swinging it around on the crossing.

Both Mr. Lindberg, riding in the back seat, and his wife were thrown from the car, but escaped with numerous cuts and bruises. Mrs. Carey Shettle of Chicago, riding with the Lindbergs, was unhurt.

Realtor Offers Arlington Well Site

New Deep Well Certain If Offer Is Accepted

Increased water supply for Arlington Heights awaits the acceptance of a site for new well that has been offered by Herman Weiss, who is developing a tract south of the Creamery Package plant. Mr. Weiss recently acquired several acres at the west end of Wing st., that has laid dormant for some time.

Placing the property back on the tax books required its development by the erection of marketable homes. The realtor has entered into an extensive program that included the laying of sewers and the proper improvement of the streets.

A ten inch water main passes through the property at Kennicott st., which marks it as a possible well site. There are no strings tied to Mr. Weiss' offer. In fact the deed for the property 37x129 feet was accepted by the village Tuesday night.

The village board met last night to inspect the property. If accepted by them, legal proceedings will be started at once. It is planned to issue $15,000 revenue bonds to finance the well.

Five years ago, Arlington Heights with the aid of the PWA expended $54,000 towards modernizing the water facilities of the village, which included erection of present water reservoir, the installation of ten inch water main encircling the village and the drilling of a deep well. That installation was expected to be ample for many years. The growth of the village has been so marked that as a defense measure a second deep well is considered necessary.

The village share of the original $54,000 improvement was $40,000, ten thousand dollars of bonds have been retired from receipts of the water department. Those receipts are now nearly $6,000 a quarter to pay the two bond issues leaving an ample amount to pay the costs of operating the department.

Aldermen Find $6,500 In Bills When They Return From Vacation

Returning to the job after a whole month's vacation, Arlington Heights village board, which met Tuesday for the first time in regular session since July 15th, found bills and payroll of $6,500 awaiting them. They were all approved. Payment will await funds.

Cafeteria Tickets Bring in Sheckles

Police officers have issued 75 "cafeteria" tickets to local motorists who have not purchased village license tags. Presentation of the tickets at the office of the village treasurer with money to purchase required tag, excuses the recipient from paying a fine. However, the police department will present a report at the next meeting of the board giving the names of those who have not purchased the tags.

Horses Still With Us

Does Arlington Heights get her fame from the race track or from its modern homes? The members of the board are not in full agreement, but the horses were again the winner when the board considered the design to be used for 1941 tags on next year's stickers, emblematical of the winner, place and show. The street department is placing their $127 (price of tags) on a sure thing, 35 to 1 shot, as the return will be over $4500.

Gaare's End Season With 17-3 Victory Over Bensenville

Gaare Studebakers won the championship of the Arlington soft ball league Sunday by defeating Iroquois A. C. of Bensenville in the last game of the season's schedule. The score was 17-3 and the outcome was never in doubt after Gaare's went to bat in the first inning.

The winners scored six runs in the first inning and picked up more in clusters of two or three almost every frame thereafer. Iroquois was helpless until the fourth when Gaare's relaxed and allowed three runs to score.

This game was the sixteenth victory of the season and marked the first time in league history that any team has swept through its entire schedule undefeated.

This elderly lady reads without glasses, is as active as a person 20 years younger and gets a lot of enjoyment out of life.

Firemen's Popularity Great As Ever

Arlington Heights firemen are saying some nice things about the people of Arlington Heights and neighboring communities. Big crowds attended their annual picnic Sunday and Monday and the financial returns more than met the expectations of the fire laddies.

The pre-sale of the tickets insured the success of the event, and the presence of so many friends, volunteer workers from the Legion, V. F. W. and Palatine fire departments not only increased the returns, but also topped the good will sentiments that everybody has for the firemen.

THANK YOU!

The weather man and our friends were both good to us Sunday and Monday, but it is to our friends that we express our thanks and appreciation for their help and support at our annual picnic.

Financial returns are pleasing to us, but the good turns accorded us by non-members of the department and the generous support of everybody places Arlington Heights fire department in further indebtedness to the people of the community.

Creamery Pkg. Confers With Village Officials

Seek Permanent Solution To Acid Problem

Officials of the Creamery Package Co. and Arlington Heights village officials are looking forward to a permanent solution of the acid problem that has confronted the sewage department of the village a number of years. Cooperation on the part of the manufacturing company and Engineer Harris of the village has eliminated to a large extent the old trouble.

The manufacturing process in use at the plant requires the release of refuse acid at certain intervals. For some time Mr. Harris has been notified when the refuse was released into the sewer and he has either supervised or checked its analysis by means of the PH test. The use of lime has neutralized the acid to such an extent that it is harmless to the sewer and sewage plant.

In spite of all of the precautions, excess acid has existed at times and the lime released in several ton lots does not always thoroughly dissolve and accumulates at the sewage plant. To guard against such incidents, representatives of the company met Monday evening with the Arlington Heights village board and city engineer Consoer.

The group from the company included chemists of that firm. Mr. Consoer suggested the installation of an additional tank for the handling of the refuse before it is released. The firm's representatives repeatedly stated that the Creamery Package desired to cooperate to the fullest extent with the village.

Representatives of the company will meet with Engineer Consoer at his office in Chicago to work out a permanent solution.

Forkload Of Hay Injures Ray Hotopp

Ray Hotopp, employed by Meyer Dairy, suffered a fractured hip Tuesday afternoon when a forkload of hay fell upon him in the barn. Ray had raised the hay to the upper part of the barn and intended to drop it on the main floor, instead of into the mow. When moving the wagon, the hayfork trip rope was accidently pulled.

Mr. Hotopp was taken to the Elmhurst hospital and later returned to his home. He will be laid up several weeks.

65 Report For Football At Arlington

Football began at Arlington Heights this past Tuesday afternoon with 65 boys equipped and ready for action. About 12 to 15 more boys will be issued suits in the next few days to complete the total for the squad. Bad news to Cardinal opponents may be in the news that the Arlington coaches are having difficulty finding large sized suits in sufficient numbers for the larger boys on the squad.

With only five letter men back from last season's squad most of the position are wide open. Knowing this, most of the candidates are evidencing more pep, and enthusiasm than is customary at this time of the year.

Due to the gradually increased growth of the squad a new coach in the person of Ray Campbell has been hired this year to assist Coaches Hogate and Grose. Another good year is expected at Arlington, even in the face of lack of veterans here, and the knowledge that most of the conference schools are well manned by experienced squads.

'Mac Says' Back On The Job

"Mac Says," weekly sports column of Paddock Publications, starts the 1940-41 season in this weeks' issue on page 4 of the second section. Gerald A. McElroy, who shouldn't need any introduction to sport fans in this area, is Sports Editor of Paddock Publications and the athletic coach at the Palatine high school. His pertinent comments have followed all sport events, not only in his own Northwest conference, but in the Northeast conference, and to some extent in the suburban leagues.

Football and other activities will get into full swing soon in the local high schools and a regular sport page will be published starting in a week or two, as has been the custom in this paper for several years.

Bud Ernst Enters Government Service Anti-aircraft Division

J. J. Ernst, known as "Bud" among his friends, and a member of the Illinois National Guards, has decided to cast his lot with the fighters of Uncle Sam who will endeavor to stop foreign aircraft if war should come. As a member of the 202nd coast artillery, he returned Saturday from Sparta, Ill., where he participated in the maneuvers. He expects to be called soon to Camp Logan, near Zion, and with the completion of the new barracks at Riverside, Calif., will go to the west coast. He is a battalion staff sergeant in charge of trucks.

"Bud" had many interesting things to tell the boys about camp life. Canned food took on a new meaning to them when he exhibited a can that contained biscuits, sugar and the makings of coffee, all in the one can. Other cans contain soup and vegetables. He is very much enthused with army life. "It is not so bad," says "Bud."

Raymond E. Hayes Tells Lions Club About Constitution

Raymond Hayes, instructor at the Arlington township high school, appeared before the Arlington Heights Lions club Tuesday night and gave an informative talk on the history and meaning of the constitution of the United States. The Lions set aside its regular meeting night to learn more about the constitution in observance of the approaching Constitution day, September 17.

Mr. Hayes cleared up many misconceptions of what the powers are that are delegated to the three branches of the U. S. government. He sought to give a non-political talk yet at the same time trace the development of the constitution from its construction by the country's forefathers down to the present administration. His interesting analysis showed the result of years of much reading and study and the Lions welcomed the opportunity to be enlightened on such a subject at the most critical stage of the country's history.

Successful Marriage.
Causes of Failure—Before Marriage.
Causes of Failure — After Marriage.
The Mother.
The Father.

The Marriageable Daughter.
The Young Man.
In-Laws.
The Old Folks.

The first sermon will be preached Sunday morning at eleven. The general public is welcome.

Warn Motorists School Time Is Here

A bomb is no more deadly than an automobile, Taylor G. Soper, executive secretary of the Illinois Road Builders Association, declared today in a warning to the city's motorists that school time again is at hand.

Up to August 14 nine girls and eight boys, from 5 to 14 years of age, died this year in "vehicle involved accidents," according to the Chicago Safety Commission. One of these was a school time accident, which listing includes the hours of 8 to 9 a. m., 12 to 1 and 3 to 4 p. m. However, during 1939, 58 children in this age group were killed of whom 39 were boys and 19 were girls. Seven of these were school time accidents.

Of the 27 deaths thus far in 1940, covering the spring school semester, 15 were by passenger cars striking children, 10 by commercial vehicles, one by a transfer truck, one by a taxi; three were cyclists; and several were from hitching onto cars or trucks.

Sixty-seven children of 5 to 14 years were included in the state's accidental death toll of 138 persons during the first six months of 1940 with 1100 in that age group injured out of a 15,919 accident total, other records show.

Figures for the 5 to 14-year age group nationally show 2,350 children killed and 155,000 injured during 1939.

"Traffic deaths of school age children seemingly run higher during the last six months each year (which includes the first school term) than during the first six months (the second school term)," the road builder declared. "This would indicate that both motorists and children are more careless after the summer's freedom but grow more careful each succeeding month, possibly because of weather, of motorist campaigns, and of school campaigns.

"Such campaigns and school supervision have cut our annual child toll about as far as they can. Further results would seem to be up to motorists, to traffic engineers, and to incorporation of known safety engineering principles into road and street construction. Modernization of Illinois' roads and streets in conformance with 1940 traffic and construction knowledge would keep much traffic out of school areas and keep youngsters off heavily-traveled, fast traffic routes.

"Until such modernization, of which superhighway construction is only one part, can be achieved, it is up to traffic engineers and police to make and enforce proper regulations and definitely up to motorists to show their sense of human responsibility by observing not only the regulations but other sound driving principles which can help avoid the 'unavoidable' accidents."

Mrs. Homer J. Byrd Returns From Hospital

Mrs. Homer J. Byrd returned home Saturday from the Freeport hospital, where she spent two weeks, following a surgical operation. She is recovering nicely, but is not yet very active.

Plans for Mount Prospect Lions' Fall Festival to be held in Mt. Prospect September 13, 14 and 15 are rapidly taking form. The entertainment committee announces that they have planned two interesting contests and invite all children, big and small, young and old (age is not limited) to participate.

First, they are going to have a dog show. So, boys and girls, if you haven't a dog, you'd better get busy and borrow one from your neighbor or some friend who has one. Any kind of a dog, large or small and a pedigree may not mean a prize. This is a show for the dogs, your Pal. You may get your registration blank for this contest at the Postoffice. Full details of the contest will be announced in next weeks paper. All dogs exhibited must be on a leash.

Second, they are having a doll buggy parade and prizes will be awarded for the contestants having the best decorated, funniest looking, and others.

Both contests will be held Sunday afternoon, September 15. Plans will be announced in full detail in next week's paper. So get ready girls and boys, too, for this interesting contest.

This year the Lions will use an 80x120 foot tent and therefore are better prepared for a much larger exhibit of Farm and Garden produce, Flowers, Handicraft, etc., than formerly. The intense interest shown in these exhibits in the past by both those who brought items to be exhibited and the visitors have made it necessary, the Lions say, for arranging additional space. No charge will be made to see these exhibits. Blue, red and white ribbons will be awarded winners for the various classes of entries. Articles exhibited will not have to be taken home each night, as the Lions Club will be fully responsible for the safe return of each and every item entered. A watchman will be on hand day and night and articles that may become soiled will be wrapped in cellophane paper when requested.

Another added feature to this year Fall Festival, the Lions announce, will be organ music. Plans for many other attractions are under way and it is hoped that this affair will be the biggest and best ever held in Mount Prospect.

The Lions club have assumed an obligation for the benefit of the residents of Mount Prospect and their friends by purchasing and erecting the attractive street signs on every street intersection in the village. Proceeds from the Fall Festival will be used to pay for the balance due on these signs and for other worth while projects for the benefit of the people in the community. You can show your appreciation of their efforts by purchasing tickets, which all Lions have, entitling the purchaser to a chance to receive $100.00, $50.00, $25.00 and ten $5.00 cash awards. In addition to those cash awards, there will be approximately fifty valuable merchandise gifts which will be distributed to those same ticket holders in attendance nightly during the term of the Festival. The winning numbers on merchandise will be replaced for the cash awards to be made Sunday, September 15.

During the past year, the Lions club have erected a toboggan slide, in addition to the street signs and have also purchased eye glasses for needy children, supported the public library and participated in many other worth while causes.

By your support to their Fall Festival, you will be aiding them in doing even more for the community and at the same time have some enjoyment for yourself and friends.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Christ Jesus" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 1.

The Golden Text was, "God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved" (John 3:17).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And, behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed" (Matthew 8:2, 3).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Though demonstrating his control over sin and disease, the great Teacher by no means relieved others from giving the requisite proofs of their own piety. He worked for their guidance, that they might demonstrate this power as he did and understand its divine Principle. Implicit faith in the Teacher and all the emotional love we can bestow on him, will never alone make us imitators of him. We must go and do likewise, else we are not improving the great blessings which our Master worked and suffered to bestow upon us" (p. 25).

By C. W. Lussman
Of Sieburg Pharmacy

The long lazy days of vacation spent at the beach, in the north woods or among the mountains draw to a close. School, club, business are bringing you back home.

Duties appear again. Of all of these none are more urgent than your duty to your health. Now is the time to see your doctor, seek that annual check over that you may have been postponing, get ready for the inevitable rush of engagements that crisp autumn days hold in store.

See your doctor, see your dentist, determine anew to follow their scientific advice, resolve to keep well in the strenuous months to come.

Medication may be required. If so, refer prescriptions to a qualified man.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Christ Jesus" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 1.

The Golden Text was, "God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved" (John 3:17).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And, behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed" (Matthew 8:2, 3).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Though demonstrating his control over sin and disease, the great Teacher by no means relieved others from giving the requisite proofs of their own piety. He worked for their guidance, that they might demonstrate this power as he did and understand its divine Principle. Implicit faith in the Teacher and all the emotional love we can bestow on him, will never alone make us imitators of him. We must go and do likewise, else we are not improving the great blessings which our Master worked and suffered to bestow upon us" (p. 25).

RELIEF MAP FOR HIKERS

The grades should be easy and smooth for the feet,
Air-conditioned and labelled when two cross trails meet;
Let there be no mosquitoes and no flies, please,
But plenty of shade under wide-spreading trees
And no roots to trip you or stub your poor toes
And no brambles to scratch or to snag your clo'es;
The grape vine is welcome and the tough bindweed, too,
But the three fingered ivy is strictly taboo;
Now for logs, high and dry, where the hiker may sit
With no ants to sting where you least like to be bit;
All the flowers should grow fairly close to the trails,
And the birds must be named without salt on their tails.
One should walk at his ease or turn back if he likes,
There's no hurry or fuss on one of our hikes,
So get a relief map any hiker can use,
It saves time and temper as well as your shoes.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

(All communications addressed to the Voice of the People for publication must be signed by the name and address of the sender).

Box Elder, Arlington Heights, Ill.
September 2, 1940

All Aspirants for the Presidency and for Public Office:

Aspirants for public office and newspapers seem to be so calf-roped and hog-tied by the money counterfeiting trust that they dare not and will not give truthful answers to any questions about money. From experience I know this to be true.

Congress (1939) appropriated twenty five thousand dollars ($25,000.00) to be used by the Senate Finance committee in investigating and inventing a new national monetary and banking system for the U. S. A. This committee, all newspapers and politicians fell into a deep coma and complete silence about it. Why?

I know that it may be considered presumptuous for a common fellow like me to challenge the so-called great men (? ?) to debate any question, but in the name of "Truth and Justice" any "American Freeman" should have that right. He may be able to show the right road and to refute false conceptions. At least, he is entitled to truthful answers to any questions in regard to governmental policies. Therefore, I challenge Willkie, Roosevelt, or any politician to debate, or answer this question: "What kind of a money and banking system should the 'Senate Finance Committee' submit to Congress and the people for their consideration and approval?

This is the paramount question next to "National Defense" affecting the welfare of the American people. Why dodge it?

Very sincerely,
Calvin Mitchell

Wheeling Girl Weds Arlington Heights Youth

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maierhofer was the scene of a lovely wedding, Saturday evening, when Miss Evelyn Maierhofer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maierhofer, of Palatine rd., Wheeling, became the bride of Mr. Elmer Sander, of Arlington Hts.

The service was read in the presence of many friends and relatives at 8:00 p. m., by Rev. Fechner, of West Northfield in the flower filled living room of the bride's home.

The bride was given away in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Ruth Nelson played the wedding march. Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Louise Maierhofer sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride wore a gown of white French crepe and lace. A net veil was held in place with a terria of orange blossoms. White roses and Pom Poms were carried by the bride.

The maid of honor, Mildred Maierhofer, sister of the bride, wore rose satin with blue velvet accessories and carried pink roses.

Carl Sander, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Following the ceremony the bridal party had their pictures taken at the Daniels Studio.

Supper was served to 70 relatives and friends in the basement of the bride's home. Later in the evening a hundred guests enjoyed dancing in the garage, the music being furnished by Melvin Preston's orchestra. A buffet supper was served about midnight to all present.

The bride and groom received many beautiful and useful gifts and wish to thank each and every one for them.

The groom is employed by the Bornhoff Dairy Co., located on Milwaukee avenue.

The young couple will make their home with the bride's parents for the present.

Frieda Kloske, Edwin Erber Wed Saturday

Saturday evening, August 31, at 7:30 p. m., the Kloske home on 114 Edward st., was the scene of a very pretty candlelight wedding ceremony.

Fifth Column Move Spreading, says Hoover

"FIFTH COLUMN methods have penetrated into every walk of life," declares J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. "Their insidious propaganda has even gained entry into some of our churches and many of our schools. Unless we unite to resist these efforts, America will regret the day when it let down the bars."

The foregoing quotation is from an article appearing in the October issue of Cosmopolitan Magazine, entitled "Inside the Trojan Horse" and written by Donald E. Keyhoe and John Jay Daly, both well known Washington correspondents. J. Edgar Hoover is not given to making hysterical statements and such writers as Messrs. Keyhoe and Daly are not alarmists. In a foreword to their piece in the magazine, Robert H. Jackson, Attorney General of the United States, says in part:

J. Edgar Hoover

"These are times which require strict discipline. It becomes the duty of every citizen to maintain individual discipline and the discipline of his community if our American democracy is to stand."

More than 350,000 known members of the Fifth Column have been placed under direct orders from Europe. Hundreds of foreign agents have entered the United States, legally or illegally, to train the hidden army in tactics which was so successful abroad. Federal agents estimate that more than half a million persons have been drawn into this network including the 350,000 already known. Five cases of sabotage were discovered in aircraft plants, one in the factory producing the huge four-motored Flying Fortresses, heart of our air-defense force. Airplane controls crossed by an unknown spy caused the crash of a new Navy plane, killing its crew.

These and many other results of the careful, methodical infiltration in this country of agents under orders from Nazi Germany and Soviet Russia, are not guesswork on the part of the authors but proven facts.

The writers say Nazi propaganda has tripled in the past two months. A vital decision will soon have to be made in this country. Following are the three most potent arguments on the question of appeasement of Hitler or challenge of his attempts for world supremacy. They were released in this country by Nazi propagandists after careful preparation in Berlin.

(1) (Wishful thinkers) Germany can't rule the whole world. She can't even police the countries she's captured—etc., etc.

(2) (Business Men) Hitler'd rather make a business deal with the United States than go to war. Why ruin business with huge taxes.

(3) (Stiff Resistance) The Nazis are invincible. Better not antagonize Hitler. It will only bring him into this hemisphere sooner—etc., etc.

All Aspirants for the Presidency and for Public Office:

Aspirants for public office and newspapers seem to be so calf-roped and hog-tied by the money counterfeiting trust that they dare not and will not give truthful answers to any questions about money. From experience I know this to be true.

Congress (1939) appropriated twenty five thousand dollars ($25,000.00) to be used by the Senate Finance committee in investigating and inventing a new national monetary and banking system for the U. S. A. This committee, all newspapers and politicians fell into a deep coma and complete silence about it. Why?

I know that it may be considered presumptuous for a common fellow like me to challenge the so-called great men (? ?) to debate any question, but in the name of "Truth and Justice" any "American Freeman" should have that right. He may be able to show the right road and to refute false conceptions. At least, he is entitled to truthful answers to any questions in regard to governmental policies. Therefore, I challenge Willkie, Roosevelt, or any politician to debate, or answer this question: "What kind of a money and banking system should the 'Senate Finance Committee' submit to Congress and the people for their consideration and approval?

This is the paramount question next to "National Defense" affecting the welfare of the American people. Why dodge it?

Very sincerely,
Calvin Mitchell

Shibboleth

Shibboleth was the test word which the Gileadites made the Ephraimites pronounce. As the Ephraimites could not say sh, but only s as in sibboleth, this was regarded as a sure indication of an Ephraimite; 42,000 Ephraimites were thus detected and executed.

Silas Trepus and James Langhoff who finished one-two in the conference mile last spring when both ran under five minutes, are expected to be among the best cross country runners but they will have to step to keep up with Anton Cipri, Palatine's best all round performer. Trepus, Cipri, Don Field, and Bill Godknecht are the lettermen. Langhoff did his first track work last spring as a sophomore.

Others who are out include Senne, Timmerhaus, J. Cipri, Duncan and Olson. All candidates for the varsity basketball team will be required to report for cross country work as a part of a pre-season conditioning program though they will not have to take part in meets. Palatine has six varsity lettermen who will report in late October for basketball. The list includes Snyder, Hahnfeldt, Hollinger, DeBerge, Hildebrandt and McCombs. Lightweight lettermen include Golden, Birks, Godknecht, Harris, Salvo, Pankava and Schwolow. Cramer, a lightweight letterman, will be out of basketball for a year due to a knee which was badly injured in tennis last spring. Bob Howes, Warder and H. Hayeys are other lightweight squad members of last season.

Starting Monday an intramural softball league will open play with games three afternoons a week. Last fall this activity drew about 80 boys. Tournaments in tennis and golf are possibilities for later in the month.

Northern Illinois District WALTHER LEAGUE

News items for this department should be mailed not later than Monday to Publicity Chairman, 304 N. Douglas St., Arlington Heights.

by ARLENE NAGEL

The grand and glorious days of August 25 to 28 are over, and everything is back to normal. The 48th Annual International Walther League convention is history; resolutions and elections are passed on on which new history will be made.

The new officers who will serve the International during the coming year are: Henry W. Buck, Kansas City, Missouri, president; Martin Meier, Buffalo, New York, vice president, east; Rev. M. Michael, Ottawa, Canada, vice president, north; R. W. Wismer, New Orleans, Louisiana, vice president, south; Albert Shinnerer, Los Angeles, California, vice-president, west; F. A. Schack, Fort Wayne, Indiana, treasurer; John Babcock, Austin, Texas, secretary; Lillian Wimer, New Orleans, Louisiana, assistant secretary; Prof. E. H. Engelbrecht, River Forest, Illinois, field secretary; E. J. Gallmeyer, Fort Wayne, and Capt. Erwin Jones, Seward, Nebraska, board members.

While we do not know any of these officers personally, we know that they are the best and are capable of serving the Leagues for they come recommended highly by respected leaders and were elected under a prayer for heavenly guidance.

While we are still talking convention, we might as well give some data on the attendance at the various activities and sessions. There were over 1100 societies represented by delegates; approximately 6,000 attended the opening service in the Stevens grand ballroom last Sunday.

On Monday night, 2,014 young people enjoyed a three hour boat cruise on the S. S. Roosevelt. Ted Meyer, our zone president, and Geo. Hohmann, arrived at Navy Pier just in time to see the ship lift anchor and sail away, so with these two, there were 2,016.

On last Sunday evening about 2,700 music lovers enjoyed the Choral Union concert in the Auditorium theater and presented by approximately 1,000 persons under the direction of Wm. Heyne.

1540 Leaguers and their friends thoroughly enjoyed the banquet on Tuesday evening. The Rev. Emil Voss of Saginaw, Michigan, did an excellent job as toastmaster.

The picture of the hundreds of young people in formal dress in the beautiful ballroom with the varied lights and attractive tables set on the ballroom floor proper, on the mezzanine floor, the antique room, and even the registration room was well worth the price of tickets itself. All through the dinner Mr. Gene Alders played selections on the Orgatron interspersed with community singing led by Mr. A. F. Schack of Fort Wayne.

Several farewell speeches were given to Prof. O. P. Kretzmann who has accepted the presidency of Valparaiso University. He was also presented with a beautiful watch from the Walther League and an alarm clock from the executive office. The entertainment consisted of an archery demonstration by Mr. Russ Hoogerhyde, a Lutheran archer, who has put on demonstrations for fourteen years to many schools and organizations, but who says that his biggest thrill was giving his talk to his own Walther League.

A number of Talent Quest winners also were presented on the program.

The main speaker, the Rev. Paul F. Miller, LL.D., of Fort Wayne, used the Biblical convention motto "Rise Up and Build" as his text.

To us the most thrilling part of the program was the presentation of huge lit ice letters spelling Walther League and the singing of the official Walther League song by 1,540 inspired young people from all over our own continent and Canada.

As for the afternoon activities, the Talent Quest which took place on Monday afternoon comprised between 450 to 500 contestants in the various divisions. Also on Monday afternoon 800 visitors went on a tour of our Windy City in 22 buses. It is estimated that the minimum attendance at each of the sessions was 1500. With this account we must agree that the International Convention was indeed a success. Next year New Orleans will be host.

Getting away from the rally and to some news from around here: Rolly Fenz writes that he is now working at the Chicago Title and Trust Company; Verdell Thorsel is at the Federal Reserve, while Don Mehlberg is learning to be a cook by working for a bakery. Oh, by the way, all these are from Roselle. Glad to hear of your good fortune.

Our faithful correspondent, Ruby Koehler, sends this news, several of the Bensenville Leaguers sang in the Choral Union concert for the convention. Charlotte March and Helen Milas had a very enjoyable week-end, (last) traveling through parts of Wisconsin and Michigan. Lorraine Schutz spent a week vacationing at the home of her cousin in Elmwood Park.

Speaking of vacations, Ruth Karstens and Loraine Schoenbeck, Arlington Seniors, have gone away for several weeks—Ruth out west and Loraine to New York.

This Week in Wheeling

LUCILE SCHNEIDER, Editor Phone 40

The September meeting of the Child Health Station will be held next week on Wednesday afternoon at the Wheeling gym. All mothers of small children in the village and surrounding communities please take note.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Utpadel moved into their newly purchased home last week, the former Stryker bungalow on Wille ave.

Mrs. A. A. Fassbender and Arthur, Jr., spent the Labor Day week-end at Penwater, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cokenower and the Victor Saunders family motored to Mattoon, Illinois, to spend the week-end. Mr. Cokenower visited relatives and old time friends there for the first time since leaving that community 17 years ago.

Mr. Elwin Kruse took up his studies at Maine Junior College this week.

Ten ladies from Wheeling attended a Public Service demonstration at Northbrook last week. The principal feature of the demonstration was cooking on the electric range. A variety of foods were prepared and were given away as prizes at the close of the afternoon. The Wheeling delegation was especially lucky in winning two of the ten food prizes. Mrs. John Neilson won a one-dish meal for six, and Mrs. Peter Schmidt took home a delicious three layer white cake. Two other members of the group, Mrs. Merle Willis and Mrs. Robert Utpadel drew one of the Electric range cook books.

The population of Wheeling is pretty well back to normal since the exodus of the Bon Air employees this week. The Bon Air country club closed last Saturday wtih the exception of the golf course.

Miss Betty June Graff, who spent the last few weeks of vacation with an aunt at McHenry, returned home in time for the opening of Wheeling school.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dieball and son Earl left early Sunday morning to spend a day of sight-seeing Starved Rock. Although they couldn't take in all there is to see at the park in a one day trip, they were thrilled at the principal points of scenic beauty which they visited and did enough climbing to make them all appreciate their beds on their return late in the evening.

The finishing touches are being put on the alleys at the Miller Bowling Parlor this week. Mr. Miller is booking several expert bowling teams from Chicago to put on some exhibition bowling on the evening of the grand opening, which he hopes to have on September 14. Bowling fans will be looking for further announcement.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Laurance left for Detroit, Michigan on Wednesday evening. Oscar is a member of a Park Ridge champion soft-ball team which plays in Detroit this week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hoffman attended the funeral of their 9 year old niece, Barbara Farner, who met her death tragically last week, when crushed against a bridge at Half Day, by a C. C. C. ambulance of which the driver had lost control.

Mr. John Wick and the Ray Lesch family returned home on Friday from a five day fishing trip to Eagle River, Wis. Weather conditions in Wisconsin last week were aptly described by a Milwaukee paper headline as: "It has rained, it is raining, it will rain." However the vacationers managed to do some fishing between showers and in the rain, and brought home a large enough catch to supply some of their friends with a fresh fish dinner.

Little Barbara Morrison of Highland Park, spent the week-end here with her great-grandmother, Mrs. Alvina Utpadel.

Mrs. Fred Felgenhauer of Oak Lawn, has been spending a week with her daughter, Mrs. Edw. Moeller.

The Carpenter and Bingham families spent the holiday week-end at the Clark cottage at Glen, Mich.

Northern Illinois District WALTHER LEAGUE

News items for this department should be mailed not later than Monday to Publicity Chairman, 304 N. Douglas St., Arlington Heights.

by ARLENE NAGEL

The grand and glorious days of August 25 to 28 are over, and everything is back to normal. The 48th Annual International Walther League convention is history; resolutions and elections are passed on on which new history will be made.

The new officers who will serve the International during the coming year are: Henry W. Buck, Kansas City, Missouri, president; Martin Meier, Buffalo, New York, vice president, east; Rev. M. Michael, Ottawa, Canada, vice president, north; R. W. Wismer, New Orleans, Louisiana, vice president, south; Albert Shinnerer, Los Angeles, California, vice-president, west; F. A. Schack, Fort Wayne, Indiana, treasurer; John Babcock, Austin, Texas, secretary; Lillian Wimer, New Orleans, Louisiana, assistant secretary; Prof. E. H. Engelbrecht, River Forest, Illinois, field secretary; E. J. Gallmeyer, Fort Wayne, and Capt. Erwin Jones, Seward, Nebraska, board members.

While we do not know any of these officers personally, we know that they are the best and are capable of serving the Leagues for they come recommended highly by respected leaders and were elected under a prayer for heavenly guidance.

While we are still talking convention, we might as well give some data on the attendance at the various activities and sessions. There were over 1100 societies represented by delegates; approximately 6,000 attended the opening service in the Stevens grand ballroom last Sunday.

On Monday night, 2,014 young people enjoyed a three hour boat cruise on the S. S. Roosevelt. Ted Meyer, our zone president, and Geo. Hohmann, arrived at Navy Pier just in time to see the ship lift anchor and sail away, so with these two, there were 2,016.

On last Sunday evening about 2,700 music lovers enjoyed the Choral Union concert in the Auditorium theater and presented by approximately 1,000 persons under the direction of Wm. Heyne.

1540 Leaguers and their friends thoroughly enjoyed the banquet on Tuesday evening. The Rev. Emil Voss of Saginaw, Michigan, did an excellent job as toastmaster.

The picture of the hundreds of young people in formal dress in the beautiful ballroom with the varied lights and attractive tables set on the ballroom floor proper, on the mezzanine floor, the antique room, and even the registration room was well worth the price of tickets itself. All through the dinner Mr. Gene Alders played selections on the Orgatron interspersed with community singing led by Mr. A. F. Schack of Fort Wayne.

Several farewell speeches were given to Prof. O. P. Kretzmann who has accepted the presidency of Valparaiso University. He was also presented with a beautiful watch from the Walther League and an alarm clock from the executive office. The entertainment consisted of an archery demonstration by Mr. Russ Hoogerhyde, a Lutheran archer, who has put on demonstrations for fourteen years to many schools and organizations, but who says that his biggest thrill was giving his talk to his own Walther League.

A number of Talent Quest winners also were presented on the program.

The main speaker, the Rev. Paul F. Miller, LL.D., of Fort Wayne, used the Biblical convention motto "Rise Up and Build" as his text.

To us the most thrilling part of the program was the presentation of huge lit ice letters spelling Walther League and the singing of the official Walther League song by 1,540 inspired young people from all over our own continent and Canada.

As for the afternoon activities, the Talent Quest which took place on Monday afternoon comprised between 450 to 500 contestants in the various divisions. Also on Monday afternoon 800 visitors went on a tour of our Windy City in 22 buses. It is estimated that the minimum attendance at each of the sessions was 1500. With this account we must agree that the International Convention was indeed a success. Next year New Orleans will be host.

Getting away from the rally and to some news from around here: Rolly Fenz writes that he is now working at the Chicago Title and Trust Company; Verdell Thorsel is at the Federal Reserve, while Don Mehlberg is learning to be a cook by working for a bakery. Oh, by the way, all these are from Roselle. Glad to hear of your good fortune.

Our faithful correspondent, Ruby Koehler, sends this news, several of the Bensenville Leaguers sang in the Choral Union concert for the convention. Charlotte March and Helen Milas had a very enjoyable week-end, (last) traveling through parts of Wisconsin and Michigan. Lorraine Schutz spent a week vacationing at the home of her cousin in Elmwood Park.

Speaking of vacations, Ruth Karstens and Loraine Schoenbeck, Arlington Seniors, have gone away for several weeks—Ruth out west and Loraine to New York.

The September meeting of the Child Health Station will be held next week on Wednesday afternoon at the Wheeling gym. All mothers of small children in the village and surrounding communities please take note.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Utpadel moved into their newly purchased home last week, the former Stryker bungalow on Wille ave.

Mrs. A. A. Fassbender and Arthur, Jr., spent the Labor Day week-end at Penwater, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cokenower and the Victor Saunders family motored to Mattoon, Illinois, to spend the week-end. Mr. Cokenower visited relatives and old time friends there for the first time since leaving that community 17 years ago.

Mr. Elwin Kruse took up his studies at Maine Junior College this week.

Ten ladies from Wheeling attended a Public Service demonstration at Northbrook last week. The principal feature of the demonstration was cooking on the electric range. A variety of foods were prepared and were given away as prizes at the close of the afternoon. The Wheeling delegation was especially lucky in winning two of the ten food prizes. Mrs. John Neilson won a one-dish meal for six, and Mrs. Peter Schmidt took home a delicious three layer white cake. Two other members of the group, Mrs. Merle Willis and Mrs. Robert Utpadel drew one of the Electric range cook books.

The population of Wheeling is pretty well back to normal since the exodus of the Bon Air employees this week. The Bon Air country club closed last Saturday wtih the exception of the golf course.

Miss Betty June Graff, who spent the last few weeks of vacation with an aunt at McHenry, returned home in time for the opening of Wheeling school.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dieball and son Earl left early Sunday morning to spend a day of sight-seeing Starved Rock. Although they couldn't take in all there is to see at the park in a one day trip, they were thrilled at the principal points of scenic beauty which they visited and did enough climbing to make them all appreciate their beds on their return late in the evening.

The finishing touches are being put on the alleys at the Miller Bowling Parlor this week. Mr. Miller is booking several expert bowling teams from Chicago to put on some exhibition bowling on the evening of the grand opening, which he hopes to have on September 14. Bowling fans will be looking for further announcement.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Laurance left for Detroit, Michigan on Wednesday evening. Oscar is a member of a Park Ridge champion soft-ball team which plays in Detroit this week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hoffman attended the funeral of their 9 year old niece, Barbara Farner, who met her death tragically last week, when crushed against a bridge at Half Day, by a C. C. C. ambulance of which the driver had lost control.

Mr. John Wick and the Ray Lesch family returned home on Friday from a five day fishing trip to Eagle River, Wis. Dairy Improvement Brings Higher Net Return To Farmer

Evidence that high-producing dairy cattle make higher net returns than low-producing herds is that cows producing 228 pounds of butterfat last year returned $45 above cost of feed, while those producing 372 pounds made $94 above feed cost.

The net income of Illinois dairymen is going to increase further if better and healthier cattle, constructive breeding programs, pasture improvement and plenty of legume hay are considered, according to C. S. Rhode and J. G. Cash of the dairy department of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. A dairy program embodying all or part of these dairy improvement factors is being demonstrated in more than 2,000 communities in Illinois.

Many dairymen are finding that good pasture brings as high returns as any other factor and that plenty of good quality legume hay makes possible the feeding of good rations at lower costs. In addition more improved pastures and adequate acreages of legumes are important in soil improvement and erosion control, the specialists said.

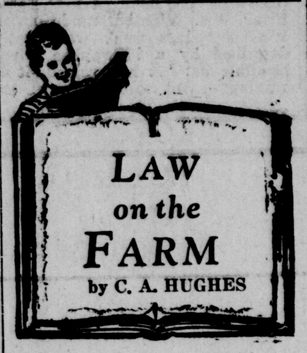
The problem of eliminating disease from the herd is being tackled by increasing numbers of dairymen and the principles involved in maintaining a herd free from disease are better understood. More than 50 per cent of all dairy herd improvement association cooperator's herds are tested for Bang's disease.

More than 10 per cent of the 84 associations in Illinois have 10 or more years of records on their herds. Significant improvement in herd efficiency has been observed in these records.

The way cows are fed and managed during hot summer months has a lot to do with the amount of milk and butterfat they produce and the returns over feed cost, according to the dairy specialists. Dairymen who meet summer conditions to the best advantage are those who supply enough feed of good quality to make their cows as comfortable as possible.

Unnamed Lakes

Most of us think the United States is pretty well settled and there are no uncharted lands. To some extent, this is true, but, according to the Michigan department of conservation, there are some 1,000 unnamed lakes in the state. Most of them are located in the wilderness of the North.



Estates—By legal definition an estate is "the interest which any one has in lands, or in any other subject of property." This interest may vary from absolute ownership (a fee simple) down to mere possession. By common usage, however, the term "estate" means to the average person the land and other property of a deceased owner prior to the completion of administration proceedings or the land held undivided by the heirs of a deceased owner.

This latter type of estate frequently presents serious farm management problems.

If none of the heirs operates the farm it is often difficult for them to agree on how they shall rent the land, what improvements they shall make and generally how they shall function as landlords. Usually in such circumstances it is good business to put the farm under the supervision of a competent hired manager.

When one of the heirs remains on the farm and operates it as a tenant, questions frequently arise as to what interest each heir should have and what expenses each should bear. Assuming that there are five heirs, the one operating the farm should get the tenant's share and also one-fifth of the landlord's share. In return for his landlord's share he should bear one-fifth of the expense of improvement to the real estate, one-fifth of the taxes and one-fifth of all other landlord expenses.

Owing to legal complications which may arise when several persons are common owners ("tenants in common") of a farm, especially when one or more of them die leaving several children or the children of deceased children, it is frequently desirable to make a settlement and transfer the title to one heir or sell the farm to an outside party.

Lawns May Be Fall Seeded

"While it is usually the practice to seed a lawn in the spring," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes, "actually best results are secured from fall seeding. This is nature's time for seeding a lawn because about this time of year seed matures and falls to the ground and frequently germinates in the fall. If nature wanted grass seeded in the spring provision would be made so the seed would not fall until spring."

Fall is an ideal growing season for grass. Usually weeds do not grow so much in the fall and those that do grow do not come to maturity. Fall seeding may start any where from the middle of August and continue up until after the middle of September.

Seeding New Lawns

In seeding a new lawn, if you have an opportunity, add plant food to the surface of the ground. Usually it is a very good practice to get a fertilizer high in phosphate and potash. Perhaps a 4-20-20 or some such formula will be all right. There is not so much virtue in the formula of the fertilizer used as there is in actually using some fertilizer on the soil. We would suggest on bare places that the fertilizer be mixed in with the surface of the ground at the rate of at least 20 pounds of fertilizer for each 1,000 square feet. The lawn may then be rolled and the seed sown and the lawn rolled again. On old lawns where the grass is thin all over it is a good idea to go in and carefully rake the lawn and get rid of crab grass. The best fertilizer for an old lawn is probably soybean oil meal applied at the rate of about 20 pounds per 1000 square feet. A little heavier application will not hurt. The seed may be then sown after the fertilizer has been raked in and rolled. If there are spots in a lawn or areas where grass has not been growing, a little fertilizer may be added and mixed in the top three or four inches of ground and rolled down before seeding.

Subsequent Treating

After a seeding it is not absolutely necessary to sprinkle with water. If sprinkling is begun it is necessary to keep it up regularly—perhaps sprinkling one or two times a day until the seeding has actually sprouted and itself fairly well established. Frequently lawns are sprinkled until the seed has sprouted after which sprinkling is discontinued and if the weather continues dry most of the new grass will perish. However, if there is plenty of moisture in the ground there is really not much necessity of sprinkling a new seeding.

Late Fall Seeding

Sometimes it is a practice to prepare a seed bed and put the seeding on late in the fall so it will not germinate until spring. This is preferable to seeding lawns in the spring because the seed gets worked into the ground and it will not be harmed by the winter weather. The only danger that can come would be from severe washing, if the seeding is done late enough in the fall just before the ground freezes up. This is a method that is being used quite a bit on golf courses and other extensive seedings. It is not necessary to have a covering of leaves, straw, or other material over a lawn during the winter time. Again we wish to repeat that many lawns are poor because the ground is poor and sufficient plant food has not been added. Keep this in mind in adding commercial fertilizer—try to work it into the ground. Old lawns however, will take a top dressing of soybean oil meal frequently and it is about the best fertilizer that can be used.

Convenient Place For Pans Saves Many Steps

Kitchen convenience can be counted in steps. No matter how modern the equipment any homemaker in Cook county may have, if she has to walk back and forth endlessly between table, stove, cupboards and sink, she's bound to feel fatigue sooner or later.

The solution, according to Miss Gladys Ward, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, is to bring all those pots and pans within reach. As home management specialist in the extension service, she is helping homemakers throughout the state do this by encouraging them first to draw kitchen plans on paper. The idea is to build shelves as closely as possible to the work table or sink. These families are finding that shelves either above or below the sink or work table come in handy and that most of the carpenter work can be done at home.

Some families are building fairly tall but narrow closets which can be placed at the side of the table or stove or some where within the immediate work center. Pots and pans are hung up on hooks in these tall cabinets. A common idea is to build a small cabinet, not very deep, which can be placed over the sink or table and which will hold kitchen knives, spoons, egg beater and similar articles. An ordinary window shade to fit the cupboard is placed at the top and can be rolled down when the utensils are not in use.

Pantries are going out of style largely because they cause so much walking. Miss Ward has been urging many groups to change the pantry into a coat room. The shelves from the pantry might well be utilized for cabinets or shelves in the kitchen.

If the family eats in the kitchen regularly, it's a wise idea to store the dishes and linen in nearby cupboards. Just a little ingenuity and work does the trick. That's all.

Weight at Birth

What animal weighs the least at birth and which one the most? The opossum at birth weighs only 1-140th ounce, while a new-born whale weighs seven tons.

Freezer Storage Means Fresh Peach Shortcake Later

Want to have fresh peach short cake next January? Then put those ripe, juicy, firm peaches, which are now on the market, into freezer storage right now.

A new circular on "How to prepare Fruits and Vegetables for Freezer Storage and How to Use Them," has just come off the press from the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, reports C. A. Hughes, Farm Adviser. Written by Miss Sybil Woodruff, formerly chief in foods in the Agricultural Experiment Station, and Miss Helen Klaas, first assistant in home economics, the circular gives reasons for preserving peaches and other foods by freezer storage, tells the rules to success, and how to serve the frozen delicacies.

The Gage Elberta is named as a good peach for freezer storage.

The circular, number 510, may be obtained free of charge from the extension service in agriculture and home economics, University of Illinois, College of Agriculture.

First Sight of Buffalo

The buffalo was first seen by white men in Anahuac, the Aztec capital of Mexico, in 1521, when Cortez and his men paid their first visit to the menagerie of King Montezuma. In its wild state the animal was first seen in southern Texas in 1530 by a shipwrecked Spanish sailor.

Strains Of Corn Vary Greatly In Feeding Values

Although there's not much difference in the value of hybrid and open-pollinated corn for fattening pigs, there is a difference in feeding value between specific strains of corn, whether it is hybrid or open-pollinated, says B. W. Fairbanks, professor of swine husbandry at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Pigs receiving hybrid corn in 11 experiments conducted at five stations made an average daily gain of 1.49 pounds, compared with 1.46 pounds for open-pollinated. Pigs ate an average of 391 pounds of hybrid corn in making 100 pounds gain, while they ate an average of 394 pounds of open-pollinated for each 100 pounds gain.

However, when different strains of hybrid and open-pollinated corn were fed pigs, more than half a pound gain a pig for each day was observed. The difference was not quite so great when comparing strains of open-pollinated as in the case of hybrid corn.

The difference in feed consumed for each 100 pounds of gain was just as striking when the strains were compared. There was a difference of 172 pounds in the case of open-pollinated and 89 pounds for strains of hybrid.

Even though the problem of hybrid versus open-pollinated corn has ceased to be a problem, Fairbanks concludes that strains of hybrid and strains of open-pollinated corn may vary as much within their respective classes as any one hybrid would vary from any one open-pollinated variety.

Types Of Poultry Equipment Shown In New Circular

Simple, suitable equipment for the farm poultry flock, one of the most important factors in the success of the poultry enterprise, is effectively described with the aid of many illustrations in "Poultry Equipment," publication now available from local farm and home advisers or the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Particular emphasis is given in the publication to the weather-proof range feeder, which is lacking on nine-tenths of Illinois farms. A drawing shows how it is constructed and instructions are given for adapting the plans for a turkey feeder.

The circular, No. 506, which is a revision of No. 333, shows other models and types of equipment that are simple to construct and that have proved their worth in everyday use on poultry farms in Illinois.

Necessary for health and productiveness of the flock are plenty of hopper space, watering devices to keep fresh water at the right temperature, adequate nesting facilities, broody coops, shelters for shade in summer and protection in winter. These are all considered in the 20-page circular, prepared by H. H. Alp, assistant professor of poultry extension at the university.

Despite the importance of much of this equipment, according to Alp, it is not uncommon to find a flock owner with good birds and good houses but without good equipment. There is no real reason for this lack of equipment, since most equipment needed about a poultry yard or farm can easily be made at home, Alp said.

Dairy Improvement Brings Higher Net Return To Farmer

Evidence that high-producing dairy cattle make higher net returns than low-producing herds is that cows producing 228 pounds of butterfat last year returned $45 above cost of feed, while those producing 372 pounds made $94 above feed cost.

The net income of Illinois dairymen is going to increase further if better and healthier cattle, constructive breeding programs, pasture improvement and plenty of legume hay are considered, according to C. S. Rhode and J. G. Cash of the dairy department of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. A dairy program embodying all or part of these dairy improvement factors is being demonstrated in more than 2,000 communities in Illinois.

Many dairymen are finding that good pasture brings as high returns as any other factor and that plenty of good quality legume hay makes possible the feeding of good rations at lower costs. In addition more improved pastures and adequate acreages of legumes are important in soil improvement and erosion control, the specialists said.

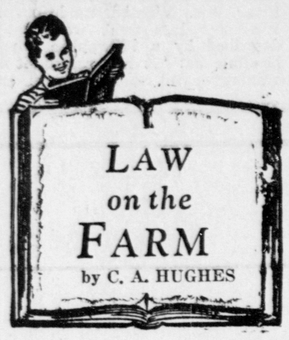
The problem of eliminating disease from the herd is being tackled by increasing numbers of dairymen and the principles involved in maintaining a herd free from disease are better understood. More than 50 per cent of all dairy herd improvement association cooperator's herds are tested for Bang's disease.

More than 10 per cent of the 84 associations in Illinois have 10 or more years of records on their herds. Significant improvement in herd efficiency has been observed in these records.

The way cows are fed and managed during hot summer months has a lot to do with the amount of milk and butterfat they produce and the returns over feed cost, according to the dairy specialists. Dairymen who meet summer conditions to the best advantage are those who supply enough feed of good quality to make their cows as comfortable as possible.

Unnamed Lakes

Most of us think the United States is pretty well settled and there are no uncharted lands. To some extent, this is true, but, according to the Michigan department of conservation, there are some 1,000 unnamed lakes in the state. Most of them are located in the wilderness of the North.



Estates—By legal definition an estate is "the interest which any one has in lands, or in any other subject of property." This interest may vary from absolute ownership (a fee simple) down to mere possession. By common usage, however, the term "estate" means to the average person the land and other property of a deceased owner prior to the completion of administration proceedings or the land held undivided by the heirs of a deceased owner.

This latter type of estate frequently presents serious farm management problems.

If none of the heirs operates the farm it is often difficult for them to agree on how they shall rent the land, what improvements they shall make and generally how they shall function as landlords. Usually in such circumstances it is good business to put the farm under the supervision of a competent hired manager.

When one of the heirs remains on the farm and operates it as a tenant, questions frequently arise as to what interest each heir should have and what expenses each should bear. Assuming that there are five heirs, the one operating the farm should get the tenant's share and also one-fifth of the landlord's share. In return for his landlord's share he should bear one-fifth of the expense of improvement to the real estate, one-fifth of the taxes and one-fifth of all other landlord expenses.

Owing to legal complications which may arise when several persons are common owners ("tenants in common") of a farm, especially when one or more of them die leaving several children or the children of deceased children, it is frequently desirable to make a settlement and transfer the title to one heir or sell the farm to an outside party.

Lawns May Be Fall Seeded

"While it is usually the practice to seed a lawn in the spring," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes, "actually best results are secured from fall seeding. This is nature's time for seeding a lawn because about this time of year seed matures and falls to the ground and frequently germinates in the fall. If nature wanted grass seeded in the spring provision would be made so the seed would not fall until spring."

Fall is an ideal growing season for grass. Usually weeds do not grow so much in the fall and those that do grow do not come to maturity. Fall seeding may start any where from the middle of August and continue up until after the middle of September.

Seeding New Lawns

In seeding a new lawn, if you have an opportunity, add plant food to the surface of the ground. Usually it is a very good practice to get a fertilizer high in phosphate and potash. Perhaps a 4-20-20 or some such formula will be all right. There is not so much virtue in the formula of the fertilizer used as there is in actually using some fertilizer on the soil. We would suggest on bare places that the fertilizer be mixed in with the surface of the ground at the rate of at least 20 pounds of fertilizer for each 1,000 square feet. The lawn may then be rolled and the seed sown and the lawn rolled again. On old lawns where the grass is thin all over it is a good idea to go in and carefully rake the lawn and get rid of crab grass. The best fertilizer for an old lawn is probably soybean oil meal applied at the rate of about 20 pounds per 1000 square feet. A little heavier application will not hurt. The seed may be then sown after the fertilizer has been raked in and rolled. If there are spots in a lawn or areas where grass has not been growing, a little fertilizer may be added and mixed in the top three or four inches of ground and rolled down before seeding.

Subsequent Treating

After a seeding it is not absolutely necessary to sprinkle with water. If sprinkling is begun it is necessary to keep it up regularly—perhaps sprinkling one or two times a day until the seeding has actually sprouted and itself fairly well established. Frequently lawns are sprinkled until the seed has sprouted after which sprinkling is discontinued and if the weather continues dry most of the new grass will perish. However, if there is plenty of moisture in the ground there is really not much necessity of sprinkling a new seeding.

Late Fall Seeding

Sometimes it is a practice to prepare a seed bed and put the seeding on late in the fall so it will not germinate until spring. This is preferable to seeding lawns in the spring because the seed gets worked into the ground and it will not be harmed by the winter weather. The only danger that can come would be from severe washing, if the seeding is done late enough in the fall just before the ground freezes up. This is a method that is being used quite a bit on golf courses and other extensive seedings. It is not necessary to have a covering of leaves, straw, or other material over a lawn during the winter time. Again we wish to repeat that many lawns are poor because the ground is poor and sufficient plant food has not been added. Keep this in mind in adding commercial fertilizer—try to work it into the ground. Old lawns however, will take a top dressing of soybean oil meal frequently and it is about the best fertilizer that can be used.

Convenient Place For Pans Saves Many Steps

Kitchen convenience can be counted in steps. No matter how modern the equipment any homemaker in Cook county may have, if she has to walk back and forth endlessly between table, stove, cupboards and sink, she's bound to feel fatigue sooner or later.

The solution, according to Miss Gladys Ward, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, is to bring all those pots and pans within reach. As home management specialist in the extension service, she is helping homemakers throughout the state do this by encouraging them first to draw kitchen plans on paper. The idea is to build shelves as closely as possible to the work table or sink. These families are finding that shelves either above or below the sink or work table come in handy and that most of the carpenter work can be done at home.

Some families are building fairly tall but narrow closets which can be placed at the side of the table or stove or some where within the immediate work center. Pots and pans are hung up on hooks in these tall cabinets. A common idea is to build a small cabinet, not very deep, which can be placed over the sink or table and which will hold kitchen knives, spoons, egg beater and similar articles. An ordinary window shade to fit the cupboard is placed at the top and can be rolled down when the utensils are not in use.

Pantries are going out of style largely because they cause so much walking. Miss Ward has been urging many groups to change the pantry into a coat room. The shelves from the pantry might well be utilized for cabinets or shelves in the kitchen.

If the family eats in the kitchen regularly, it's a wise idea to store the dishes and linen in nearby cupboards. Just a little ingenuity and work does the trick. That's all.

Freezer Storage Means Fresh Peach Shortcake Later

Want to have fresh peach short cake next January? Then put those ripe, juicy, firm peaches, which are now on the market, into freezer storage right now.

A new circular on "How to prepare Fruits and Vegetables for Freezer Storage and How to Use Them," has just come off the press from the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, reports C. A. Hughes, Farm Adviser. Written by Miss Sybil Woodruff, formerly chief in foods in the Agricultural Experiment Station, and Miss Helen Klaas, first assistant in home economics, the circular gives reasons for preserving peaches and other foods by freezer storage, tells the rules to success, and how to serve the frozen delicacies.

The Gage Elberta is named as a good peach for freezer storage.

The circular, number 510, may be obtained free of charge from the extension service in agriculture and home economics, University of Illinois, College of Agriculture.

First Sight of Buffalo

The buffalo was first seen by white men in Anahuac, the Aztec capital of Mexico, in 1521, when Cortez and his men paid their first visit to the menagerie of King Montezuma. In its wild state the animal was first seen in southern Texas in 1530 by a shipwrecked Spanish sailor.

Strains Of Corn Vary Greatly In Feeding Values

Although there's not much difference in the value of hybrid and open-pollinated corn for fattening pigs, there is a difference in feeding value between specific strains of corn, whether it is hybrid or open-pollinated, says B. W. Fairbanks, professor of swine husbandry at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Pigs receiving hybrid corn in 11 experiments conducted at five stations made an average daily gain of 1.49 pounds, compared with 1.46 pounds for open-pollinated. Pigs ate an average of 391 pounds of hybrid corn in making 100 pounds gain, while they ate an average of 394 pounds of open-pollinated for each 100 pounds gain.

However, when different strains of hybrid and open-pollinated corn were fed pigs, more than half a pound gain a pig for each day was observed. The difference was not quite so great when comparing strains of open-pollinated as in the case of hybrid corn.

The difference in feed consumed for each 100 pounds of gain was just as striking when the strains were compared. There was a difference of 172 pounds in the case of open-pollinated and 89 pounds for strains of hybrid.

Even though the problem of hybrid versus open-pollinated corn has ceased to be a problem, Fairbanks concludes that strains of hybrid and strains of open-pollinated corn may vary as much within their respective classes as any one hybrid would vary from any one open-pollinated variety.

Behind Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

New York, September 2—Business—Pick-ups in employment, due to defense work getting under way, continue to produce larger and larger "reflections" in increased sales. After four weeks in which national department store sales averaged six per cent over corresponding weeks of 1939, the gain moved up to 10 per cent two weeks ago—and last week went on up to 15. Indications are the month of August, as a whole, will show the widest margin of gain over 1939, of any month this year. If it hits 10 per cent, the Federal Reserve Board's adjusted index of such sales would be 97 per cent of the 1923-25 average—and that would be the highest for any month since way back in the spring of 1931. Total revenue freight loadings for the nation's railroads hit a new high mark for the year last week—a fraction better than 10 per cent above the same week of last year.

Wages Topping Prices—According to official estimates by the Department of Commerce, the income of the American people during the first seven months of the year was two billion dollars higher than for the same period in 1939 . . . In fact, it was the highest for any comparable period in the whole decade of the '30's. At the same time the cost of living, taking it on a national average, has not risen at a comparable rate. That means that, other things being equal, the average housewife today can spend a larger proportion of her income on non-essential consumer goods. She can have some costume-jewelry doo-dads for her winter coat—or get a couple of extra permanent waves—or an extra bottle of milk daily—or thick cream on top of the apple pie on Sunday.

More "Starch"—Manganese, rubber and tin are the "Big Three" of Uncle Sam's strategic materials—so called because they're vital to national defense, but surrounded with difficult procurement problems. The U. S. faced near disaster in 1918 because of lack of manganese—the ore that puts the "starch" in steel—and until recently nearly all of our manganese has had to be imported from such far-off sources as Russia, India, Africa and Brazil. The Cuban-American Manganese corporation is expanding the capacity of its plant near Santiago from 100,000 tons to 130,000 tons annually, effective next January 1. Langbourne M. Williams, Jr., president of Freeport Sulphur company, of which the manganese corporation is a subsidiary, said that when development of the low-grade Cuban ores was started, 10 years ago, it was with the knowledge that a large nearby source of manganese was thus being established as a bolsterer of our national defense setup. They had to contend with a major earthquake, a revolution, and three floods before operations became technically and economically successful in 1937, so he said it was "gratifying, after such a struggle, that the company is able with its own funds to increase its plant capacity, at the request of the Defense Advisory commission, to augment the nation's defense resources."

Behind Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

New York, September 2—Business—Pick-ups in employment, due to defense work getting under way, continue to produce larger and larger "reflections" in increased sales. After four weeks in which national department store sales averaged six per cent over corresponding weeks of 1939, the gain moved up to 10 per cent two weeks ago—and last week went on up to 15. Indications are the month of August, as a whole, will show the widest margin of gain over 1939, of any month this year. If it hits 10 per cent, the Federal Reserve Board's adjusted index of such sales would be 97 per cent of the 1923-25 average—and that would be the highest for any month since way back in the spring of 1931. Total revenue freight loadings for the nation's railroads hit a new high mark for the year last week—a fraction better than 10 per cent above the same week of last year.

Wages Topping Prices—According to official estimates by the Department of Commerce, the income of the American people during the first seven months of the year was two billion dollars higher than for the same period in 1939 . . . In fact, it was the highest for any comparable period in the whole decade of the '30's. At the same time the cost of living, taking it on a national average, has not risen at a comparable rate. That means that, other things being equal, the average housewife today can spend a larger proportion of her income on non-essential consumer goods. She can have some costume-jewelry doo-dads for her winter coat—or get a couple of extra permanent waves—or an extra bottle of milk daily—or thick cream on top of the apple pie on Sunday.

More "Starch"—Manganese, rubber and tin are the "Big Three" of Uncle Sam's strategic materials—so called because they're vital to national defense, but surrounded with difficult procurement problems. The U. Mac Says

by GERALD A. McELROY

School opened Tuesday in the schools of the Northeast and Northwest conference as it did all over the country and the football coaches issued suits and put their 1940 prospects through fundamental drills on the opening day.

The state allows no organized practice before September 1 and as the local conferences do not permit spring practice the coaches will be giving their charges intensive work during the first few weeks in order to get ready for opening games which in most cases come on September 20 or 21.

Wide Open Race In N. E. Loop

All eight schools of the Northeast loop will compete on the gridiron with the race a wide open affair. All the schools lost their outstanding men from 1939 when Crystal Lake took the championship with Lake Forest, Arlington, and Niles furnishing the chief competition. The leading teams of 1939 were the ones hardest hit by graduation. Other schools of the Northeast Conference are Libertyville, Leyden, Woodstock, and Warren. The Libertyville Wildcats and the Leyden Eagles may be the leading teams of 1940.

Zimmerman Coaches At Woodstock

New coaches will be handling teams at Crystal Lake and Woodstock. Ken Zimmerman, former Warren high and University of Illinois star, will direct the Woodstock team which experienced a disasterous season in '39. Zimmerman has been added to the staff and Larry Dale will continue to direct athletics at the northern institution.

Lakers Keep Notre Dame System

At Crystal Lake another Notre Dame man, McIntyre, will take the place of Puplis who moved to Proviso as head grid coach. The new Laker coach played center for the Irish last year but does not step into as rosy a situation as did Puplis when he took over in 1938.

New Assistant At Arlington

The same men will be at the helm in the other six institutions though their assistants may be changed. At Arlington, Jack Grose will direct the team with Marion Hogate and Roy Campbell, a new man from Beloit college, as assistants. Basketball at Arlington will be handled by Hayes and Campbell as Grose will shoulder increased duties as Assistant Principal and Athletic Director.

Libertyville will have Art Bergstrom, Leyden will be led by Sam England, Warren by Bob Kelton, Lake Forest by Ed Lindenmeyer, and Niles will have Harold Isaacson at the helm. Bob Kelton and Sam England will be the only football coaches in the conference who will coach varsity basketball this season unless Zimmerman is assigned this work at Woodstock.

Enrollments are up in nearly all the Northeast schools with Niles having the greatest increase with an expected 750 on the basis of early registrations.

Four Play In N. W. Conference

Football in the Northwest Conference will be played by only four of the eight schools. Northbrook, champ in 1939, and Barrington appear to be the top contenders with many veterans returning though Grant has a generous sprinkling of experienced boys and may surprise. Antioch will be starting the sport for the first time since 1933.

Delay Opening School

The opening of school at Antioch has been delayed until September 9, as a precaution against infantile paralysis. Two deaths from this disease were reported in the residential section of the town.

FIRE PREVENTION

by ALEX LIPS

BE SAFE

As the winter months approach when heating plants of various description, which have been idle during the summer, are pressed into service and free circulation of air through the open windows and doors reduced, fire hazards to property and personal injury from escaping gases and smoke from defective vents are, among other things, greatly increased.

As many of these hazards can be prevented, the Arlington Heights Fire Department asks all residents and organizations to give special attention to heating plants by making necessary repairs and disposing of inflammable material permitted to accumulate.

The Following Are a Few Suggestions

Has the furnace or boiler been cleaned; does it leak?

Has the smoke-pipe rusted out during the summer?

Is the chimney clean; has it any cracks?

Get rid of the rubbish in the coal bin.

What was done with the old paint buckets? Throw them out.

Have you any cleaning naptha? Do your cleaning outside and throw the surplus away.

Oily rags create spontaneous combustion; burn all of them.

Watch rubbish bonfires carefully.

Cyril Wagner Finds Playing Golf Backwards Fascinating But Trying

By TOMMY KOUZMANOFF

Cyril Wagner, Mohawk's youthful excitement-seeking professional, created an innovation in the golf circles last Sunday afternoon when he toured his home acres in decidedly unorthodox style—backwards—that is, from green to tee instead of tee to green, eliminating all putting. Cyril claims it is the ruination of millions of golfing temperaments anyway.

Teeing off of the 18th green with the aid of a carpet and a lifetime rubber "Scottie" tee and with a sizeable gallery following him, Wagner proceeded to use up only 22 strokes on the back nine. He needed 27 cracks at the pellet on the longer first nine. The speedy Bensenville tutor fairly lost his gallery in getting around in an hour and ten minutes.

"Playing the game of golf backwards proves one thing if nothing else, commented 'Prof.' Wagner after his weird entourage, "that the tees are smaller than the greens."

Robert Taylor and Vivien Leigh in "Waterloo Bridge," at the Palatine Theatre starting Sunday for 4 days; co-featured with Hugh Herbert in "La Conga Nights", a comedy feature on the same bill.

Movie News.

Comedy Drama Made To Order For Bob Burns

Bob Burns, with his bazooka and his homely, humorous stories about the kinfolk back yonder, returns to the screen in the Universal comedy, "Alias the Deacon," which plays Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Palatine theatre. In contrast to his more recent screen roles, Burns is distinctly himself in "Alias the Deacon." He is the same friendly and comic philosopher who has made his relatives world famous since he emerged a few years ago from Van Buren, Ark., to tell about them.

Stolen jewels in her purse, a loaded pistol in her hand, the "Girl In 313" is an amazing character—despite her beautiful exterior and her charming manners. She is smart as a whip, and out-connives the most dangerous gang of jewel thieves Park Avenue has ever known.

"Girl In 313," which is cofeatured with "Alias the Deacon," has Florence Rice, Kent Taylor, Lionel Atwill and Katharine Aldridge in the featured cast.

One of the most memorable romances ever written for the stage, Robert E. Sherwood's "Waterloo Bridge," has been made into a timely and tender love story, starring Vivien Leigh and Robert Taylor, and coming Sunday for an engagement of four days.

With its vital and exciting background of London of the war years, 1917 and 1940, the story is woven around a ballet dancer and an aristocratic young British officer, who meet on historic Waterloo Bridge during an air raid and seek shelter in the Waterloo underground.

Described as a cocktail of music, dancing and laughter, Universal's farce comedy "La Conga Nights," the second feature with Hugh Herbert starring in seven different hilarious comedy characterizations.

'Sporting Blood" Present Race Track Thrills

Thundering hoofs of racing thoroughbreds, the burning of stables, horses running wild, and the thrills and excitement of the race track are seen in "Sporting Blood," coming to the Catlow Theatre on Saturday. Robert Young, Maureen O'Sullivan and Lewis Stone are the principal characters in this story of southern horse racing. Young is seen as a horse owner and trainer who straightens out a feud between two old Virginia families, wins the love of Maureen, and is the victor in the big handicap race. Also featured in the production are William Gargan and Lynne Carver. Race track sequences were filmed at the famous Santa Anita course, and the training track and stables appearing as Stone's in the film were photographed at the Marwyck ranch owned by Barbara Stanwyck.

In an age of specialization, Geo. Marshall, the film director, has specialized in creating new careers for feminine screen stars.

Already famous for directing Universal's "Destry Rides Again," which brought out Marlene Dietrich as a "western" heroine, Marshall has now accomplished the same feat for brunette Kay Francis in the new frontier action epic, "When The Daltons Rode," opening Sunday at the Catlow Theatre.

As the leading feminine member of a distinguished cast, Miss Francis plays her first "outdoor" role in "When the Daltons Rode," appearing as the pretty telegraph operator of Coffeyville, Kan., the center of operations for the celebrated Dalton gang back in the early nineties.

Another All-Fun Show At Des Plaines Sunday

The inimitable comedy style of Thorne Smith who wrote "Topper" and other big hits of its kind, is successfully brought to the screen in the film version of his funniest story, "Turnabout." This slaphappy laugh hit opens Sunday at the Des Plaines Theatre, featuring in its cast such stars as Adolphe Menjou, Carole Landis, John Hubbard, William Gargan and many others. Double featured on the same program is another comedy, but in a more sophisticated vein, the screen version of the phenominally successful stage play, "Susan and God" co-starring Joan Crawford and Fredric March, with Ruth Hussey, John Carroll, Rita Hayworth and Bruce Cabot prominently featured.

Currently showing at the Des Plaines Theatre, and winding up a three day run on Saturday night is "Phantom Raiders," the new Nick Carter adventure thriller with Walter Pidgeon and Florence Rice, double featured with "Four Sons" starring Don Ameche, Alan Curtis and many other top names. The new pre-release issue of Paramount News completes the current program.

School opened Tuesday in the schools of the Northeast and Northwest conference as it did all over the country and the football coaches issued suits and put their 1940 prospects through fundamental drills on the opening day.

The state allows no organized practice before September 1 and as the local conferences do not permit spring practice the coaches will be giving their charges intensive work during the first few weeks in order to get ready for opening games which in most cases come on September 20 or 21.

Wide Open Race In N. E. Loop

All eight schools of the Northeast loop will compete on the gridiron with the race a wide open affair. All the schools lost their outstanding men from 1939 when Crystal Lake took the championship with Lake Forest, Arlington, and Niles furnishing the chief competition. The leading teams of 1939 were the ones hardest hit by graduation. Other schools of the Northeast Conference are Libertyville, Leyden, Woodstock, and Warren. The Libertyville Wildcats and the Leyden Eagles may be the leading teams of 1940.

Zimmerman Coaches At Woodstock

New coaches will be handling teams at Crystal Lake and Woodstock. Ken Zimmerman, former Warren high and University of Illinois star, will direct the Woodstock team which experienced a disasterous season in '39. Zimmerman has been added to the staff and Larry Dale will continue to direct athletics at the northern institution.

Lakers Keep Notre Dame System

At Crystal Lake another Notre Dame man, McIntyre, will take the place of Puplis who moved to Proviso as head grid coach. The new Laker coach played center for the Irish last year but does not step into as rosy a situation as did Puplis when he took over in 1938.

New Assistant At Arlington

The same men will be at the helm in the other six institutions though their assistants may be changed. At Arlington, Jack Grose will direct the team with Marion Hogate and Roy Campbell, a new man from Beloit college, as assistants. Basketball at Arlington will be handled by Hayes and Campbell as Grose will shoulder increased duties as Assistant Principal and Athletic Director.

Libertyville will have Art Bergstrom, Leyden will be led by Sam England, Warren by Bob Kelton, Lake Forest by Ed Lindenmeyer, and Niles will have Harold Isaacson at the helm. Bob Kelton and Sam England will be the only football coaches in the conference who will coach varsity basketball this season unless Zimmerman is assigned this work at Woodstock.

Enrollments are up in nearly all the Northeast schools with Niles having the greatest increase with an expected 750 on the basis of early registrations.

Four Play In N. W. Conference

Football in the Northwest Conference will be played by only four of the eight schools. Northbrook, champ in 1939, and Barrington appear to be the top contenders with many veterans returning though Grant has a generous sprinkling of experienced boys and may surprise. Antioch will be starting the sport for the first time since 1933.

Delay Opening School

The opening of school at Antioch has been delayed until September 9, as a precaution against infantile paralysis. Two deaths from this disease were reported in the residential section of the town.

FIRE PREVENTION

by ALEX LIPS

BE SAFE

As the winter months approach when heating plants of various description, which have been idle during the summer, are pressed into service and free circulation of air through the open windows and doors reduced, fire hazards to property and personal injury from escaping gases and smoke from defective vents are, among other things, greatly increased.

As many of these hazards can be prevented, the Arlington Heights Fire Department asks all residents and organizations to give special attention to heating plants by making necessary repairs and disposing of inflammable material permitted to accumulate.

The Following Are a Few Suggestions

Has the furnace or boiler been cleaned; does it leak?

Has the smoke-pipe rusted out during the summer?

Is the chimney clean; has it any cracks?

Get rid of the rubbish in the coal bin.

What was done with the old paint buckets? Throw them out.

Have you any cleaning naptha? Do your cleaning outside and throw the surplus away.

Oily rags create spontaneous combustion; burn all of them.

Watch rubbish bonfires carefully.

Cyril Wagner Finds Playing Golf Backwards Fascinating But Trying

By TOMMY KOUZMANOFF

Cyril Wagner, Mohawk's youthful excitement-seeking professional, created an innovation in the golf circles last Sunday afternoon when he toured his home acres in decidedly unorthodox style—backwards—that is, from green to tee instead of tee to green, eliminating all putting. Cyril claims it is the ruination of millions of golfing temperaments anyway.

Teeing off of the 18th green with the aid of a carpet and a lifetime rubber "Scottie" tee and with a sizeable gallery following him, Wagner proceeded to use up only 22 strokes on the back nine. He needed 27 cracks at the pellet on the longer first nine. The speedy Bensenville tutor fairly lost his gallery in getting around in an hour and ten minutes.

"Playing the game of golf backwards proves one thing if nothing else, commented 'Prof.' Wagner after his weird entourage, "that the tees are smaller than the greens."

Comedy Drama Made To Order For Bob Burns

Bob Burns, with his bazooka and his homely, humorous stories about the kinfolk back yonder, returns to the screen in the Universal comedy, "Alias the Deacon," which plays Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Palatine theatre. In contrast to his more recent screen roles, Burns is distinctly himself in "Alias the Deacon." He is the same friendly and comic philosopher who has made his relatives world famous since he emerged a few years ago from Van Buren, Ark., to tell about them.

Stolen jewels in her purse, a loaded pistol in her hand, the "Girl In 313" is an amazing character—despite her beautiful exterior and her charming manners. She is smart as a whip, and out-connives the most dangerous gang of jewel thieves Park Avenue has ever known.

"Girl In 313," which is cofeatured with "Alias the Deacon," has Florence Rice, Kent Taylor, Lionel Atwill and Katharine Aldridge in the featured cast.

One of the most memorable romances ever written for the stage, Robert E. Sherwood's "Waterloo Bridge," has been made into a timely and tender love story, starring Vivien Leigh and Robert Taylor, and coming Sunday for an engagement of four days.

With its vital and exciting background of London of the war years, 1917 and 1940, the story is woven around a ballet dancer and an aristocratic young British officer, who meet on historic Waterloo Bridge during an air raid and seek shelter in the Waterloo underground.

Described as a cocktail of music, dancing and laughter, Universal's farce comedy "La Conga Nights," the second feature with Hugh Herbert starring in seven different hilarious comedy characterizations.

'Sporting Blood" Present Race Track Thrills

Thundering hoofs of racing thoroughbreds, the burning of stables, horses running wild, and the thrills and excitement of the race track are seen in "Sporting Blood," coming to the Catlow Theatre on Saturday. Robert Young, Maureen O'Sullivan and Lewis Stone are the principal characters in this story of southern horse racing. Young is seen as a horse owner and trainer who straightens out a feud between two old Virginia families, wins the love of Maureen, and is the victor in the big handicap race. Also featured in the production are William Gargan and Lynne Carver. Race track sequences were filmed at the famous Santa Anita course, and the training track and stables appearing as Stone's in the film were photographed at the Marwyck ranch owned by Barbara Stanwyck.

In an age of specialization, Geo. Marshall, the film director, has specialized in creating new careers for feminine screen stars.

Already famous for directing Universal's "Destry Rides Again," which brought out Marlene Dietrich as a "western" heroine, Marshall has now accomplished the same feat for brunette Kay Francis in the new frontier action epic, "When The Daltons Rode," opening Sunday at the Catlow Theatre.

As the leading feminine member of a distinguished cast, Miss Francis plays her first "outdoor" role in "When the Daltons Rode," appearing as the pretty telegraph operator of Coffeyville, Kan., the center of operations for the celebrated Dalton gang back in the early nineties.

Another All-Fun Show At Des Plaines Sunday

The inimitable comedy style of Thorne Smith who wrote "Topper" and other big hits of its kind, is successfully brought to the screen in the film version of his funniest story, "Turnabout." This slaphappy laugh hit opens Sunday at the Des Plaines Theatre, featuring in its cast such stars as Adolphe Menjou, Carole Landis, John Hubbard, William Gargan and many others. Double featured on the same program is another comedy, but in a more sophisticated vein, the screen version of the phenominally successful stage play, "Susan and God" co-starring Joan Crawford and Fredric March, with Ruth Hussey, John Carroll, Rita Hayworth and Bruce Cabot prominently featured.

Currently showing at the Des Plaines Theatre, and winding up a three day run on Saturday night is "Phantom Raiders," the new Nick Carter adventure thriller with Walter Pidgeon and Florence Rice, double featured with "Four Sons" starring Don Ameche, Alan Curtis and many other top names. The new pre-release issue of Paramount News completes the current program.
